Record County Budget Asks $1,401,556

Request's Highest On Record

Official Action Slated Saturday

A record budget request of $1,401,556 for 1950 will be submitted to the county commissioners for their approval at 10 a. m., July 2, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today. That figure is $133,417 over the budget request for this year.

Wolfe said the budget figure for next year is as high as it can go under the present system of obtaining revenue. After approval by the commissioners, the budget goes to the county budget commission. Appropriations are made at the first of the year.

The budget request for the general fund amounts to $678,122, compared with a request of $617,732 for this year. The TB fund request totals $91,000, or $16,000 over last year. The Aid to the Blind request is $25,000, compared with $20,000, while the Aid to Dependent Children fund request is $118,000, up $4,000.

The auto license and gasoline tax fund request is $425,000, an increase of $19,000. The request for the TB bond retirement fund is $79,187, compared with a request of $93,750 for this year.

Wolfe said a smaller levy for retiring the bonds and paying interest is required next year.

Main item of increase in the general fund is for courthouse and jail repairs, delayed by the war. Another large increase is in the budget for the Soldiers Relief, $66,000 compared with $40,000 for 1949. That is the maximum allowed for the purpose.

An extra $10,000 was requested for the contingency fund, raising it to $20,000.

NEARLY IDENTICAL

Requests for the various county departments was almost identical with requests for this year's appropriations, Wolfe said.

The county levy on this year's tax duplicate, to be collected next year, includes two mills for general operating expenses, five-tenths of a mill for TB operating purposes, and six-tenths of a mill for the TB bond retirement fund. The county probably will seek to have the TB operating

See OK On Arms, Pact

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Senate leaders today gave Secretary of State Dean Acheson qualified promises of action on the Atlantic pact and the arms - for -Europe program this year.

Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas and Chairman Tom Connally of the Foreign Relations committee expressed "hope" that the two measures would be approved at this session of Congress.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican foreign policy spokesman, said flatly that "Congress can't adjourn without acting on both. We cannot leave any twilight zone in a subject of such major importance to the world."

These statements followed Acheson's plea yesterday for prompt action on the defense pact and the $1,450,000,000 arms program for free nations of the world.

Today Acheson was scheduled to brief the House Foreign Affairs committee on progress made at the big four meeting in Paris.

Eight Win Posts In Boys' State

Eight Mansfield area youths, attending Buckeye Boys' State at Delaware, yesterday were elected to mythical government posts. The Buckeye Boys' State budget message was to be presented to the group today by William I. Goettman, Springfield youth named governor.

Paul B. Shank of Ashland and Gerald Dennis of Shelby were elected mayors while Robert Malone, Galion, and Dudley Riggle, Ashland, were named senators. Among the representatives elected were Dale McClelland, Mt. Gilead; Harold Hessenauer, Galion, and two Shelby youths, James Smith and John Scherer.

Mercury Climbing Again

Warmer weather is coming back and bringing showers with it, the weatherman said today.

Mansfielders enjoyed mild temperatures and low humidity yesterday after several days of muggy heat. The temperature range in Mansfield yesterday was from a high of 79 to a low reading of 59.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms are predicted, beginning in the northwest portion of the state this afternoon. Friday will be cloudy with scattered showers, the weatherman said.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported showers would bring some relief from drought conditions, but would not be heavy enough to erase the rain deficit which exists in some spots in northeastern Ohio and the east.

Some light showers fell over areas of the parched New England states and New York state yesterday, but not enough to ease the threat of severe damage to farm crops. The long dry spell also has created serious water shortages in some New England communities and intensified the hazards of forest fires.

Farm crops already have suffered millions of dollars damage from the lack of rain. In New Jersey the state secretary of agriculture estimated the loss at $10,000,000. With the drought curtailing production of the asparagus and strawberry crop. The state's potato and blueberry crops are in critical shape, he said. No heavy rain has fallen for 32 days.

Practically all of Ohio enjoyed temperatures in the lower and middle eighties yesterday.

Taft To Talk Here In Fall

Ohio's U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft will come to Mansfield Oct. 13 to address a joint meeting of Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs.

This marks the first Mansfield speaking engagement of the Ohio Senator since he made a political address here in 1946 while on a campaign tour of this district. He stopped in Mansfield briefly last year.

The announcement of Senator Taft's appearance at the joint meeting was made by Glenn Williams, program chairman of the Mansfield Lions club at the annual Father-Son banquet at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Wednesday night.

Ninety members of the club, their sons and guests attended the affair.

Guest speaker at last night's affair was Homer Bigbee, president of the Farmers Bank of Bellville.

Bigbee told the group that adults of today should not worry so much about the younger generation; instead they should give more thought and consideration to the condition of this country and its government when the time comes to turn it over to them.

"Statistics show that only one person in 15 going to the poles to vote, do so with intelligent thinking. The rest vote as they are told", Bigbee said.

A feature of the evening's banquet was the presentation of a gold-engraved trophy to the champion of the Richland County Marble tournament, Jack Gougoutas. Also attending the dinner was the runner-up in the tournament, Ed Doran and his father.

Jackets Shrink, Escapers Give Up

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. — (INS) — Two of the eight fugitives from a West Virginia prison camp were captured early today on the golf course of the Clarksburg Country club.

Prison guard William Lawrence, who netted the pair, said the convicts were unarmed and surrendered without a struggle. He added: "They couldn't have struggled if they wanted to. They'd swum the West Fork river and their uniforms had shrunk so they were like straight jackets. They could hardly move, let alone run for it."

Cars Hit Manhole

Man Injured On Longview

A sewer manhole cover jutting out of Longview avenue near Olivesburg road today was blamed for two traffic accidents and injury to one person during the past two days.

Norman D. Allis, of 282 Herman avenue, struck the manhole yesterday and damaged his automobile.

Shortly after noon yesterday a News-Journal reporter told city officials of the accident, and City Engineer W. C. Statler told R. O. Darling, contractor, to repair the street.

However, at 2:40 a. m. today, Richard W. Heller, 23, of Bucyrus, struck the sewer and was injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment. His car was damaged.

Police took the man to the hospital where it required four stitches to close a gash in his tongue.

City Engineer Statler and Street Supt. E. W. Davis said the rough street was the contractor's responsibility since a sanitary sewer is being installed along Longview avenue and the job is still under construction.

The protruding manhole cover had been repaired by noon today.

Close Pool In Race Conflict

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — Racial conflict forced the closing of one of Youngstown's six city-operated swimming pools late yesterday. But park commission members said all of the pools will be placed in operation again today.

Nathaniel C. Lee, Negro, member of the community relations committee of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and his three children entered the east side pool. A few moments later most of a crowd of 1,000 other swimmers milled around and threatened the father and his children.

Bruce Hamm, manager of the pool, called police and, acting on orders of the park commission, closed the pool for the day.

Sleeping Child, Mother Flee

Three Freight Cars Smash Into Office

DANVILLE — A Fredericktown mother and her ten-year-old daughter escaped serious injury early today when three derailed cars of a Pennsylvania freight train smashed into the small telegrapher's building where the child was sleeping.

Both the mother, Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, and the child, Bonnie Italiano, suffered lacerations on their hands after smashing a window in order to crawl out of the building, located where State Route 62 crosses the railroad tracks.

Seventeen cars of the Columbus-to-Canton train piled up on a 50-yard section of track at 4:10 a. m., rail officials reported, with three of them smashing into the building.

One of the cars blocked the door, forcing Mrs. Gibbs, telegraph operator, and her daughter to flee through the window.

Mrs. Gibbs gave this version of the wreck:

"I had two clearance cards to hand up to the freight train, one for the engine crew and one for the caboose crew.

"I went out with a lantern after setting the signal clear for the train and handed up the order to the engineer. (The orders are attached to a hoop which the trainmen engage with their arms as they pass.)

TRAIN BUCKLES

"Just as the engineer took the order hoop I looked back along the train and saw it buckle. I knew I would have to get out of there.

"I ran inside the office where my daughter was asleep. My daughter and I broke the window with our hands and jumped out when one of the cars hit the station and jammed the door so I couldn't open it."

Three empty tank cars and 14 cars loaded with glass, bales of cotton and grain derailed. While railroad officials declined to comment, newsmen at the scene were told a broken flange on one of the wheels caused the accident.

Traffic was to be restored some time late today.

Seek Strike End

MARION — (AP) — Federal mediators today recalled into conference the Ohio Associated Telephone company management and the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers in an attempt to settle an 11-week-old telephone strike.

Outing Scheduled Friday At South Park

1,500 Expected At Masonic Picnic

One of Mansfield's largest outings will be held at South Park Friday evening when 1,500 Masons are expected to attend the annual picnic sponsored by the Masonic Mystic club.

Serving will begin between 5 and 5:30 p. m., but many are expected to come earlier in the afternoon to participate in games and sports prior to the picnic.

Members of the Mystic club are busy making preparations for the picnic, including the ordering of food in wholesale lots.

The nine directors of the club will serve cafeteria-style a picnic lunch of 150 pounds of ham, 150 pounds of cheese, 50 dozen sandwich buns, 60 loaves of bread, 25 gallons of cottage cheese, plus coffee and soft drinks.

The directors are not announcing the exact menu because there will be a surprise feature for the picnic lunch.

The Mansfield Masonic band will provide music during the evening. There also will be horseshoe pitching, softball, and other games on the program.

Held In Missing Girl Case

Illinois Truck Driver Jailed

An inter-state truck driver was held in the Richland county jail today on a juvenile court complaint of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, resulting from the disappearance of 14-year-old Inez J. Teter, of Lexington.

The driver, William Ogden, 31, of Decatur, Ill., is accused of picking up the girl in his truck on the night of her disappearance last May 25. The girl is still missing, Sheriff E. P. Long said today.

Ogden was apprehended by Dayton police and returned here yesterday by Long. The sheriff said he intends to question the driver sometime today. Ogden is alleged to have told Dayton police he left the girl off at Ashland, later saying he left her off at Mansfield, the sheriff reported.

Long traced the driver through the name of the trucking company, furnished by Lexington residents who said they saw the girl get into the truck.

The girl's mother, Mrs. M. T. Teter, said today that her daughter is known as "Pat." She said the girl was large for her age and is easily taken for 17 or 18 years of age. She is five feet, seven inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

The girl has brown hair and brown eyes, Mrs. Teter said. She was wearing a red dress with buttons down the front and black and white saddle shoes when last seen.

Two-Month Strike Seen

Hint Lewis To Stagger Walkouts

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — (UP) — Coal operators said today they believe John L. Lewis may try to "stagger" strike action by his miners over the next two months if contract negotiations fail.

They said that by striking various segments of the industry at different times, Lewis probably could forestall any government efforts to obtain a Taft-Hartley anti-strike injunction against his United Mine Workers.

The operators agreed that a staggered walkout would make it difficult for the government to prove in court that the work stoppage imperiled the national health and safety.

The present soft coal contract expires on June 30. But under the Taft-Hartley act, a union must maintain the status quo for at least 60 days after giving notice of contract termination.

Under these circumstances, operators said, Lewis will be free to strike on June 30 only in the southern mines owned by members of the Southern Coal Producers association. The status quo provision of the law, they said, would compel the miners to work in U. S. Steel's "captive" mines until July 13, in other northern commerical mines until Aug. 14, and in the anthracite pits until Aug. 15.

Raps Highway Funds 'Waste'

COLUMBUS — (UP) — A resolution pending in the Ohio House today accused State Highway Director T. J. Kauer of "flagrant waste of public funds."

The charge was made by Rep. Clifton Caryl, R., Union, who introduced a resolution in the House yesterday calling for the governor and the legislature to make an immediate investigation.

Caryl cited a contract let to rebuild 8,063 miles of state Route 3 south of Sunbury in Delaware county with reinforced concrete. He charged the concrete would cost some $24,100 per mile more than if macadam were used.

WON'T ACT ON REMOVAL

LANCASTER — (INS) — Lancaster Mayor Fred Von Stein will not act today on a petition to remove Police Chief Sam H. Hustler.

Cracks Piggy Bank To Pay For Wedding

LOS ANGELES —INS— Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida was expected to meet his fiancee, Barbara Jean Manning, today or tomorrow.

The governor denied he "hocked" his 1948 Cadillac to finance his wedding trip. He said he "wanted to borrow $3,000 on it for a while, but the bank hasn't given me the money as yet."

He added: "I and two other state executives decided not to draw our pay rather than see others go without theirs. I'm financing my wedding out of my piggy bank, you might say."

Fear Forty Dead After Air Crash

Dutch Airliner Falls In Flames

BARI, ITALY —(AP)— A four-engined KLM (Royal Dutch airlines) plane crashed in the sea off this southeastern Italian port today, killing between 30 and 40 persons.

Americans, Dutch and Turks were said to have been aboard. Apparently there were no survivors.

A Bari port official said 24 bodies had been recovered, many badly burned. These included 16 men, five women and three children, he said.

Recovery of other bodies believed trapped in the wreckage was hindered by choppy seas. Italian navy divers and patrol craft were aiding in the recovery operations.

Dispatches said the plane went down in flames from an altitude of about 15,000 feet.

The KLM office in Rome was advised by the Dutch vice consul in Bari that the ship apparently was bound in from Batavia to Amsterdam.

The air ministry in Rome announced a plane had crashed, but had no details.

Gazzetta Del Mezzogiorno said women and children were among the passengers.

From Cairo, the KLM office said, the normal course of these planes is over eastern Greece, Yugoslavia and Germany. This would indicate the plane which crashed today might have been off course.

Plan Policy Statement

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The State department planned today to issue a white paper restating its foreign policy toward China and all southeast Asia.

Department officials have been working on the document for several weeks. It awaits only the approval of Secretary of State Acheson for issuance.

It was doubted that the document would be published before the weekend in view of Acheson's commitments to discuss the recent meeting of the big four foreign ministers council in Paris.

However, the increasing wave of demands for further aid to the retreating Chinese nationalist government and the administration determination to grant no further help, appeared to call for a new public statement.

Government Adds To Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The House appropriations committee today allotted another 33 million dollars to the states to combat mounting unemployment as President Truman expressed concern about the situation.

The appropriations committee's action brought to 168 million doolars amount so far aside to aid states in their efforts to meet the threat of further joblessness.

SLAYER DIES TONIGHT

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Barney Kenneth Davis jr., 24, of Cleveland is scheduled to die in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair tonight for the burglary-slaying of Norman Carl Reker, a Cleveland Heights policeman, Feb. 20, 1948.

Danville Youth, 19, Killed

Autos Collide Near Bellville

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

A 19-year-old Danville youth was killed and six other persons were injured when two cars collided three miles south of Bellville on State Route 13 at 9:50 p. m. yesterday.

Rolly Summers jr., Danville, the driver of one car, was killed when his auto collided head-on with one driven by Clarence Kozak, 42, Bellville.

Kozak, whose condition is described by General hospital authorities as "fair" today, received contusions of the head, a fractured skull and multiple lacerations of the face.

Others injured were:

J. A. Dunn, 29, Coshocton, fractured pelvis and body bruises.

Frank Cahill, 59, Akron, injured shoulder, laceration of left eye and face injuries.

Dale Cambell, 20, Danville, face cuts and body bruises.

Rodney Ferenbaugh, 19, Danville, chest and arm bruises.

Fred Kidwell, 19, Danville, body bruises.

2 IN HOSPITAL

Cahill and Dunn also are in General hospital. Their conditions are described as "good."

Campbell, Ferenbaugh, and Kidwell were passengers in Summers' car and Dunn and Cahill were riding with Kozak.

The Danville youths were on their way to Mansfield. Kozak was demonstrating his car to Cahill, who was interested in buying it. Cahill is Dunn's father-in-law.

State Patrolmen said Kozak's car was headed south and Summer was going north when they collided at the crest of a hill. Summers' car, a 1936 sedan, rolled over and righted itself again on a bank at the side of the road. Both cars were badly damaged. Kozak was driving a 1947 sedan.

One of the cars may have been straddling the white line, as it was going over the hill, patrolmen said. Definite cause of the accident was not determined.

Summers' death is the 11th traffic fatality in Richland county since the first of the year and the first in June. Last year at this time there were only five fatalities.

The youth's body was taken to Danville after he was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. He died of a fractured skull and a brain injury, highway patrolmen said.

Funeral services will be held in the Danville Methodist church Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. H. W. Lyons officiating. Burial will be in Workman cemetery. The youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolley Summers, four brothers and six sisters. Summers was a tool dresser and had attended Danville high school.

Kills Wife, Wounds Self

STEUBENVILLE — (AP) — A 44-year-old steel worker shot and killed his wife in her bed early today and then wounded himself in the head, Police Capt. William Consol reported.

He identified the man as Andrew Stanko, 44, an employe of the Wheeling Steel corporation.

Capt. Consol said Stanko was in a fair condition in Ohio Valley hospital.

Betty Stanko, the couple's 15-year-old daughter, told Capt. Consol this story:

She awakened at 1:30 a. m. when she heard her mother and father in an argument. She went to her mother's bedroom and saw her father standing beside the bed.

Betty said her father ordered her out of the room, and as she turned to leave, saw her father raise a .32 caliber pistol and fire at her mother.

Betty said she ran downstairs to call a doctor, and then heard "a couple more shots." When she returned to the bedroom she found her father lying on the floor beside the bed.

Capt. Consol said a charge of first degree murder probably would be filed against Stanko today.

What Is Cerumen?
It can make you HARD OF HEARING. Cerumen is that smelly, yellow ear wax that gathers in your ears. It is dangerous when it hardens and must be removed. St. Louis Cards Slice Down Brooklyn's Lead

Cincy Reds Defeat Dodgers In 11, 4-3

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Quick now, who is the regular first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals?

The average baseball fan probably has to think twice before answering "Vernal (Nippy) Jones," but the 24-year-old sophomore first-sacker, in his colorless, but efficient way, is doing a bang-up job for Manager Eddie Dyer.

Although he is shoved into the shadows by glittering teammates, it is doubtful if any other Redbird has done as much as Jones during the past 10 days to boost the Cards up to their present spot in the National league standings — a mere half game out of first place.

In the Cards' last nine games with Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, Jones has wrecked enemy pitching for 17 hits in 38 times at bat. He's driven in 17 runs and boosted his season mark 41 points to a respectable .311.

Jones collected three hits last night to help the Cards defeat the Giants, 11-8. The victory moved the Redbirds to within a half game of the first place Brooklyn Dodgers, who were defeated by the Reds in Cincinnati, 4-3.

The Cards won the hard way, making up an 8-1 deficit with three runs in the fourth, two in the sixth and a winning five in the seventh.

Cincinnati had to go 11 innings to defeat the Dodgers. Three successive singles by Peanuts Lowrey, Grady Hatton and Walker Cooper furnished the winning run after two were out. Ewell Blackwell, pitching two and a third innings of relief, received credit for his first victory of the season.

THREE HOME RUNS

A trio of homers by Herman Reich, Hank Sauer and Pitcher Dewey Adkins helped the last place Chicago Cubs outlast the Boston Braves, 9-8. Bob Muncrief, one of the 10 pitchers used in the game, was credited with his first victory as a Cub.

Dino Restelli, rookie Pittsburgh outfielder, celebrated the end of his first week in the majors by blasting two homers — his fourth and fifth — to lead the Pirates to a 12-3 triumph over Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies. Vic Lombardi went all the way to notch his first victory of the season.

The Detroit Tigers regained second place from the Philadelphia Athletics, defeating the Red Sox in Boston, 13-4, while the A's were bowing to the Cleveland Indians in a 14-inning thriller, 7-3. The triumph, coupled with New York's split in its doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns, left the Tigers four games behind the front-running Yankees.

The Yankees received a scare from the cellar-dwelling Browns who whipped them, 5-1, in the opener. However, the Yankees came back to outscore the Browns, 10-8, in the nightcap. In the other American league game, the Chicago White Sox, behind the steady hurling of Southpaw Bill Wight, defeated the Senators in Washington, 4-1.

The Tigers blasted four Boston pitchers for 18 hits, good for 26 bases. Johnny Lipon got four, and Paul Campbell and Vic Wertz got three apiece.

The Browns came within an eyelash of winning a doubleheader from the Yankees. They knocked out Vic Raschi, belaboring the ace right-hander with 13 hits in less than six innings of the nightcap, but Tommy Henrich's 14th homer in the last of the sixth, with one man aboard, broke up an 8-8 tie.

The Belmont Stakes is the oldest of the three races that make up the "triple crown."

Shelby Blues Bop Taverns Easily, 10-4

SHELBY — The Shelby Blues walloped the Mansfield T. and E. Tavern 10-4 yesterday on the Shelby High school baseball diamond.

The Blues scored their first run in the third inning. However, the Tavern boys came back and garnered four runs in the top of the fourth to take the lead. The Blues scored again in the fifth inning to make it 4 to 2.

In the eighth inning, the Blues roared into action and tallied eight runs to tuck the ball game away.

Jim Richcreek batted for Don Sands in the fifth inning and Shoemaker replaced Sands in the sixth and was credited with the win.

Jake Gates, Kenny Funk and Bob Baker were the heavy hitters for the Blues.

The Blues travel to Bucyrus Saturday night to oppose the Bucyrus Bucs. On Sunday afternoon they will play host to the Columbus A. C. nine on the high school diamond at 2:30.

Gorman-Rupp Wins From Canton On Regula's Homer

Jim "Stretch" Regula, Gorman-Rupp's lanky fire-ball hurler, has suddenly stolen the hitting thunder of his supposedly more powerful mates.

"Stretch" was the batting star for the second straight game last night as Gorman-Rupp slipped past Canton Stark Brick, 3-2, in an Ohio Major league game.

The contest was tied 2-2 going into the last of the ninth inning when "Stretch's" third home run in two games broke up the game and gave him his second league victory. Gorman-Rupp has broken even in four loop starts and "Stretch's" brother, Bobby, has been charged with both defeats.

ALLOWS THREE HITS

The younger of the pitching brothers gave up only three hits last night and walked but two men.

Gorman-Rupp scored two runs in the first inning on a single by Al Baki, walk to Pete Campbell, an error and a single by Ted Bush. Bush moved to shortstop last night with Al Baki being sent to right field in place of Bill McGarrick.

PITCHING—Bob Lemon, Indians—Allowed only one run in seven relief innings to gain credit for Cleveland's 14-inning victory over the Athletics.

Penn Manager May Switch 2 Infield Aces

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods Manager Lefty Deeds today expressed satisfaction with his team's revamped lineup but said that one more change may be made.

Deeds plans to try a switch of Dick Poth and Shelly Swank in practice this week and if it works out may move them in Sunday's game at Centerburg. Both had experience only at second base and on the mound until this year, but Deeds moved Swank to shortstop. Now Poth will be tried at short with Swank going back to second.

In the weekly batting averages, Jim Guest held his own at the top of the list with a .500 mark although Don Hardy, who played his first game stands at .667. Wilbur Wade at .412 and Red Hamman at .390 continue to pound the ball hard.

3 Mansfield Links Stars In Buckeye Publinx Field

AKRON—Ohio's Public Links golf stars will warm up for their annual state tournament today by staging 18-hole best-ball competition to acquaint themselves with the Breathnach Country Club course.

Two Mansfield links artists will be in the best-ball field and a third will join them tomorrow as actual play for the state Public Links trophy begins.

Ted Etzel, the number one qualifier from the Akron district, was a late entry in the best-ball and will play along with Bernie Mathias, his running mate from Possum Run. Pete Thoma, Coolridge club champion and third qualifier in the district, will round out the Mansfield contingent tomorrow.

80 TOP GOLFERS

Eighty of Ohio's top-flight pay-as-you-go stars are in the field, which has a 36-hole medal play qualifier on tap tomorrow, followed by two days of match play by the 16 low scorers.

The Akron district has 16 entrants in the big show, as has Cleveland. Toledo and Dayton districts are sending 12 each, Columbus 10, Youngstown 7 and Steubenville 6.

Defending Champion Val Chiaverini of Toledo, winner of the last three championships, rounds out the 80. The champ gets into the medal play flight without playing the 36-hole qualifier — but he'll take part anyway to get the "feel" of the rugged layout.

The pro-amateur and amateur-amateur events today are expected to attract large fields. Cash prizes are on tap for the professionals, and merchandise for the amateurs, who came in with the low best-ball counts.

Entrants from the various districts for the championship race are:

Akron — Peck Selby, Don Vitangelo, Joe Lazor, Chick Carst, Don Donaldson, Ray Potts, Louis Nemione, Bernie Mathias, Alex Toth, Mark Meola, Cy Walters, Evan Brown, Clarence Miller, Elmer Masterana, Pete Thoma, Ted Etzel.

Cleveland — Gene Menghini, Frank Herchick, Joe Carlone, Job Colob, John Nowack, Bob Zieska, Don Menghini, Mike Graniteo, Walter McClain, Steven Martin, Ralph Schneider, John Knapp, Bill Santor, Joe San Filippo, Jim Caspio, John Barko.

Toledo — Ronald Coulet, Russ Milne, Tom Simon, Walter Wodja, Andy Palko, Bobby Kay, Bill Pemberton, Walter Pacer, John Tooker, Bob Giesler, Gene Lake, Len Ruck and Champion Val Chiaverini.

Dayton — Jack Zimmerman, Alex Pietrsak, Don Shock, Ray Mitchell, Norman Nelson, Joe Marks, Charles Dissinger, John Blesi, Rodney Richley, Les Grissom, Pat Schwab, Ed Barney.

Columbus—Mike Hurdsan, Paul Tulga, Bill Podolski, Barney Hunt, Art Todd, Dick Martin, Rodney Miller, Frank Sylvester, Mike Gallocchio, Lew Kish.

Youngstown — Vince Laskosky, Joe Battafrano, Joe Ciminelli, Andy Santor, George Timko, Pete Kostyshak, Tom Cloran.

Steubenville — Ed Koski, James Wood, Nick Ogrisovich, Bill Tochell, Joe Patton, Charles King.

Jersey's Wife Wants No 'Mo'

CAMDEN, N. J. — (INS) — Jersey Joe Walcott's wife hopes he won't try again for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Mrs. Arnold Cream, who went for a drive while Jersey Joe was losing to Ezzard Charles, remarked:

"He can never win unless he knocks them out. He never seems to be able to win on points."

Mrs. Cream never has seen or listened to one of her husband's fights, although their six children were avid television fans last night.

Cleveland Returns To First Division

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Cleveland's persistent Indians climbed back into fourth place and tripped wearily into Washington today, ready for come-what-may.

After last night's marathon in Philadelphia's Shibe park, the Tribesmen were bound to expect anything.

The Indians and A's battled it out for 14 innings and four hours and one minute before Dale Mitchell's triple with the bases loaded enabled Cleveland to salvage the last of a three game series with the A's, 7-3.

Thus Cleveland exchanged places in American league standings with Boston, moving a single percentage point ahead of the Red Sox. The victory also permitted Detroit to move back into second over Philadelphia.

The Tribe waited almost too long to make its move last night. The game finally ended at 12:46 this morning, exactly four minutes before curfew time. According to league regulations, no inning can start after 12:50 and according to Philadelphia city rules play must cease by 12:59.

Cleveland jumped to an early lead, scoring two runs off Starter Joe Coleman of the A's in the first inning. The Redskins held that margin until the fifth when Philadelphia notched a pair off Cleveland Starter Gene Bearden.

WALKS IN RUN

Cleveland broke the deadlock in the eighth, but Philadelphia knotted the count at three-and-three in the last of the ninth when relief-hurler Bob Lemon, the game's eventual winner, walked home the tying run.

That set the stage for four scoreless extra innings until the Indians blasted Carl Scheib, the A's fourth and last pitcher, for four runs on four hits and a walk.

Bob Kennedy drew a base on balls to start the fateful fourteenth. Jim Hegan then singled and Lemon beat out a bunt to load the bases and give Mitchell his shot at immortality. Mitchell himself scored a moment after his triple on Ray Boone's single.

Lemon, belted out by the A's Tuesday night when he suffered his second loss of the season, gave up just four hits in his seven-inning relief stint to record his seventh triumph.

Mitchell led the evening's batsmen, hitting safely four times in seven trips to the plate. Hegan and Boone each got three hits.

Cleveland's Early Wynn and ex-Indian Paul Calvert were to be pitching opponents tonight in the first of four Washington games coming up.

Texans Tangle In Open Golf Tournament

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — A couple of Texans turned to golfing irons to settle an old score today as the western women's open golf tournament went into its quarterfinal round.

The luck of the draw and a couple of well-placed victories placed Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Port Arthur, against Polly Riley, the sturdy little Irish girl from Fort Worth.

Defending champion Patty Berg, Minneapolis, meets Beverly Hanson, the sweet-singing Fargo, N. D., miss.

Another match today sends professional Louise Suggs, the western open winner in 1946 and 1947, against Marjorie Lindsay, a steady challenger from Decatur, Ill.

Professional Betty Jameson, San Antonio, opposes Carol Diringer, Tiffin, O.

Mrs. Azharias beat national amateur champion Grace Lenczyk, Newington, Conn., 2-1, in the second round. Patty Berg played the best golf in many days — she didn't miss a green — in trouncing Claire Doran, Cleveland, 7-5.

Singles Champ Hurts Back In Tennis Meet

WIMBLEDON, Eng. — (INS) — Bob Falkenburg, defending champion in the men's singles, went into the third round of the all-Endland tennis championships today handicapped by a back injury.

The Hollywood Cal., fireballer, reportedly playing with his back taped, faced Hungary's J. Asboth. Falkenburg's famous cannonball service seems to have lost its authority.

Falkenburg and Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia won their opening men's doubles match yesterday but Bob scratched himself and Gussie Moran from the mixed doubles to conserve his strength for the singles.

Drobny took on Budge Patty of Los Angeles today. Another American star, Ted Schroeder, met Switzerland's R. Buser.

The American veteran Frankie Parker faced Phil Hanna, a New York actor now playing the London stage, and Dick Gonzales, the American champion, took on Egypt's M. Coen.

The first round of the women's doubles also will get under way today.

The American favorites, Louise Brough and Margaret DuPont, will play Mrs. W. C. Halford and Mrs. M. Menzies, both of England. Gussie Moran and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, other stars from the United States, also will play two Britishers, Mrs. E. Dawson Scott and Miss E. M. Wilford.

CHIEF ATTRACTION

Miss Moran was yesterday's chief attraction as all Americans swept ahead. The sun-tanned beauty from Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Betty Wilford, the British champion, 6-1, 6-4, and kept her vow to wear a new tennis creation which included lace-edged panties.

Gorgeous Gussie wore a costume that let show beneath her silk-kilted skirt the lace-trimmed panties which have been a sensation in London.

The best tennis of the day was played by Gonzales and Parker. The Los Angeles pair beat Eustace Fannin of South Africa and George Worthington of Australia, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Charlie (Moreskonich) Metro, ex-Athletic outfielder, hit .351 for Twin Falls, Idaho, in the Class C Pioneer League in 1948. He's the Yankee farm team manager.

AVC Softball Team In Romp

American Veterans Committee piled up one of the largest scores of the season in walloping Tom's Restaurant, 22-2, yesterday at the new Mansfield Tire field.

The contest was a postponed American league game and AVC's fourth straight loop victory. Twenty-two hits, including home runs by Harner and Henry rattled off the AVC bats.

Karl and Traxler Lead Pin League

Garnet Karl and Bud Traxler put together a pair of good scores to lead the Wednesday night Mixed doubles bowling league last night at Richland Recreation. Garnet had a 437 series and Bud 545 for a 982 total.

Sally Foster and Don Dancer won three games to hold the league lead with 11 victories and one defeat.

Sets Links Mark

TORONTO — (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, 39-year-old veteran from Little Rock, Ark., took the St. George's golf club course apart yesterday with a record-breaking 66 to lead the field in the first round of the 72-hole Canadian open championship.

HERE I COME—Shirley May France runs through surf after a practice swim near her home in Somerset, Mass., in preparation for an attempt to swim the English Channel this summer. Holder of several women's professional swimming titles, the 177-pound, 16-year-old high school sophomore comes from a swimming family. Her father and coach J. Walter was a long distance swimmer. Dino Restelli Shows Like a New DiMaggio

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK — (UP) — The legion of Italian fans along San Francisco's Fisherman's wharf who have been sad all season because they can't cheer for Joe Dimaggio found a new slugging star to cheer for today in dynamite Dino Restelli, the Pirates' latest home run smasher.

Like Dimaggio, Restelli is an Italian who came up from his native San Francisco, and like the injured joltin' Joe, he has made a tremendous start in major league competition. The youngster has five homers for his first nine major league games and if he continues at anything like that pace, may approximate Dimaggio's first year pace with the Yankees of 1936 when he hit 29 homers.

TAKE AWAY SADNESS

Dimaggio played a full season and Restelli will be around little more than half, so if he can bang out a total of 15 homers his Italian supporters will be calling him the "new Dimaggio" — and he will take away that sadness at not being able to cheer for their "Guiseppe."

Restelli hit two homers yesterday as the Pirates finally stopped the high - speed Phils, defeating them, 12 to 3, scoring seven runs in the fourth. Restelli and pitcher Vic Lombardi each drove in three suns, little Vic smashing a triple with the bases loaded in the big inning.

Rides 6 Winners

AKRON — (INS) — Cuban jockey Avelino Gomez gave one of the top riding shows seen in an Ohio track in many years as he came in first with six winners at Suburban Ascot park yesterday.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DEFEATS BIRDS—The birds aren't going to get all the cherries this year as they did a year ago, say Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Lawson (left) of Norwalk, O. Here's the tree, looking like a giant snowball under 116 yards of cheesecloth, which Mrs. Lawson sent for—there wasn't that much in town. To put it in place Lawson rolled it toward the middle from two sides, carried it to the treetop by ladder, then let it roll down each side. Mrs. Lawson sewed a strip underneath to seal the job.

Richland Budget Up

levy renewed at the general election, Wolfe said.

The estimated tax duplicate for the entire county for 1949 is $132,000,000, Wolfe said.

He said amounts requested for relief and welfare purposes have increased alarmingly. He said if the increase continues, the present tax structure will be unable to meet the load.

For the following funds, county relief, blind relief, soldier's relief, the indigent sick, aid to dependent children, the children's home, the county home and TB care, a total of $188,080 was spent in 1941.

For 1945 the amount reached $205,030 while for all those agencies the total went to $345,649 in 1947 and increased to $437,050 in 1948. For next year, Wolfe estimates the total will be $500,000.

About $200,000 of outside funds will be used, mostly state and some federal. The balance, an estimated $300,000 will come out of county funds.

The county relief total does not include relief furnished by the cities of Mansfield and Shelby.

Reds Using Education As Weapon

Threaten Youths Found 'Disloyal'

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (UP) — Czech youths lacking in loyalty to the communist state will be deprived of its educational advantages, the government has announced.

The question of loyalty spread to the field of schooling after it had brought the Catholic church and the state to grips in a showdown struggle.

Only Tuesday Premier Antonin Zapotocky hinted at the imminent arrest of Archbishop Josef Beran. He accused the prelate of "terrorizing" priests who wanted to support the government.

Yesterday Education Minister Zednek Nejedly said high school and university educations would be denied all youths who were not loyal supporters of the communist state.

"It will be necessary to make sure that only pupils absolutely devoted to the people's democratic regime and socialism get to the high schools and universities," Nejedly told communist teachers in national conference."

He said the constitution guaranteed religious freedom, and the government would not harm priests it considered loyal.

Church sources indicated Archbishop Beran intended to continue his spiritual fight against the regime despite its implicit threat to arrest him.

Aged Man Discovers Secret Of Herb 'Fountain of Youth'

ISLEWORTH, Eng. —(UP)— Samuel Taylor, 80, said today he had succeeded where Ponce De Leon failed.

Draining a mug of yellow liquid brewed from a recipe his grandmother left him, Taylor exclaimed:

"If I keep on drinking this stuff I will be about 65 years old next year."

Unlike the classic example who searched in vain for the fountain of youth, Taylor found his grandma's recipe two years ago, he said. He hobbled out to the fields and collected stinging nettles, dandelions, and fresh green shoots.

"There were a few more things I can't tell you about, because grandma said certain ingredients must not be revealed outside the family," he explained.

He boils the stuff for three hours, adds the juice of three lemons, a pot of Australian honey and yeast. The next morning he skims it and bottles it, just like home brew.

Doctors who have examined Taylor said he has shown definite signs of becoming younger. They shy away from comment on his elixir.

House, Senate Differ on FEPC; Senate Kills Legislation

Referendum Seen Final Possibility

Lausche-Backed Measure Defeated

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Fair Employment Practices legislation—is a dead issue in the Ohio legislature today.

A determined posse of 11 Republicans and six rebel Democrats stalked a compromise bill through three and a half house of acrimonious debate, through a jungle of parliamentary technicalities, and over all the objections a frantic and violently protesting leadership could muster, before closing in for the kill—a 17 - 13 vote in the Senate.

The vote rejected the compromise report of a conference committee which has been working since May 23 in an attempt to resolve House - Senate differences.

The House had passed a "compulsory" bill; it was junked by the Senate in favor of an "educational" measure. The compromise leaned toward the House version — to much so for the rampaging Senate.

An even dozen roll - calls were taken as the ambushed Democratic leadership vainly tried every parlimentary maneuver in every rule book they could find to postpone the fatal vote at least until next week.

The result in every instance except the final vote was a 16-14 defeat, despite the fact that FEPC, in principle, bears the endorsement of governor Lausche and the platforms of both political parties.

Even Sen. Howard Metzenbaum (D-Cleveland) who led the unsuccessful fight, admitted after the "afternoon" session ended at 8 p. m., that "FEPC appears dead."

The only hope for a state fair employment practices law in Ohio was the forlorn one that the lawmakers might vote to place the matter before the voters in November. A resolution to do just that has been locked in a Senate committee since its introduction Feb. 8. It could be revived to take the solons off the spot.

Hint Revolt Threatening

HAVANA — (INS) — Anti-Trujillo groups in Havana insisted yesterday despite officials denials, that an armed attempt to overthrow the Dominican republic's president is underway.

Both the Cuban ministry of state and the Dominican republica maintain there is no fighting in the country. The Cuban charge D'Affaires in Ciudad Trujillo has been recalled to give an on-the-scene account of the situation in the Dominican republic.

An organization recruiting for the reported revolution claimed last night that some 5,000 men signed up to fight Trujillo. The recruiting drive has already prompted an informal protest from the Dominican republic.

The "rebel" radio, broadcasting from an unknown point in the Caribbean area, went off the air Tuesday afternoon, and further attempts to pick up the station were unavailing.

Ohio Homes Built 1,100 Years Ago

WILMINGTON —(P)— Finding of the first house site in Ohio used by Adena people 1,100 years ago, was announced yesterday.

Raymond S. Baby, curator of archaeology of Ohio State museum, made the statement and said excavation of the mound near Cowan's creek has been completed.

Discovery of post molds of houses was confirmed by W. S. Webb, director of the department of anthropology at the University of Kentucky. He is an authority on Adena house sites, having excavated 38 in Kentucky.

At least 18 persons were buried in the mound near here, according to Baby.

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The state supreme court today awaited word from the Muskingum county common pleas judge on its order that he set a date for trial of disbarment proceedings against a Zanesville attorney or show cause why a date should not be set.

The high court ordered action by Judge Clarence J. Crossland at the request of a Muskingum county bar committee comprised of C. Alfred Zinn, J. Lincoln Knapp and Donald P. Jones. The order was signed by Justice Edward S. Matthias.

Surely Textbooks Aren't 'Secret'

WHY ALL the hullabaloo about the congressional investigating committee's requests for lists of textbooks from a number of colleges? As Oberlin college officials put it: "The books are available at the bookstore for anyone to obtain. There is nothing secret about them."

Indeed, if some student, preparing his doctor's thesis, had written to these same institutions of learning asking for their lists of textbooks, the data would probably have been supplied as a matter of simple routine, with a mere exchange of courtesy letters.

The congressional request seems to have been magnified out of all proportion because of the current trials and probes of communists and suspected communists in New York and Washington.

The hue and cry might be justified if there appeared to be any intention to censor textbooks. The communists, of course, censor everything in Russia and their satellite nations. But Americans want no part of censorship.

There may be ample cause, however, to look into and expose the contents of some of the books being used to form the thinking of young Americans.

If insidious propaganda has been written into any of them it should be laid bare for what it is, and not passed off to unsuspecting young minds as fact or as the sound judgment of learned people.

For example, there is nothing wrong with teaching exactly what communism is in theory or how it has worked out in practice. But to inject communist propaganda, or any other kind, into the presentation of what purports to be fact is dishonest and unfair to minds still being molded in their ways of thought.

A study of the nation's textbooks may give rise to some healthy discussion from all quarters.

Why New Homes Cost So Much

MANSFIELD is again brought to national attention in a creditable way—this time by much favorable comment on a brochure written by H. Kenneth Dirlam, assistant secretary of the Mansfield Building & Loan association, on the subject, "What Makes a New House Cost So Much?"

The federal government, as well as private interests, has been troubled by the housing shortage during recent years, yet factual information seems to have been lacking as to real reasons why building costs have mounted so tremendously since 1941.

Mr. Dirlam's findings on this subject are based on experience as a loan company official and on a study of conditions as localized in the Mansfield area, but the booklet which he has made available is proving of interest all over the country, as evidenced by the frequency of requests for a copy of it.

Information as to the rise in costs of home-building covers all phases of construction—excavation, foundation, materials, various kinds of labor, plumbing, wiring, heating, and the like.

Difficulties encountered by contractors are also mentioned in explanation of why many contractors are curtailing operations, "sitting on the sidelines and waiting for lower building costs."

Special reference is made to the slow-down in bricklaying trade, recalling that whereas bricklayers of some years ago averaged 1,800 bricks a day, this has dwindled to less than a fourth of that number being considered a day's work.

A recent issue of the Ohio Savings and Loan Record contains excerpts from Mr. Dirlam's booklet, much of which is applicable to other cities as well as to Mansfield.

Mastersingers Score Again

AGAIN, the Mansfield Mastersingers have completed a highly successful season with more than 1,800 persons hearing their final two concerts this week. Success has come to be expected of the Mastersingers.

Key to the popularity of the group is, of course, good musicianship. There can be no other basis for sustained public appeal among a group of singers. Novelty will wear off. Personal loyalty can become frayed. But truly fine singing keeps its eternal appeal.

Beyond this, the Mastersingers could not fail because in their organization there are more than a few men who are willing and even eager to devote their time and ability, to planning, rehearsing, staging, directing, and taking care of the hundreds of burdensome details that go with any public production.

The unselfishness of these men, coupled with their musical ability and able direction, make the Mastersingers an organization representative of the best currents in Mansfield's way of life.

Future of Baseball Brightens

BASEBALL is becoming more popular. Those who do not know that it had ever slipped have not followed the private alarms of the National Baseball Congress and other lovers of the game. These have been disturbed over the falling off in participation on the part of the youngsters. Softball was proving a serious competitor. Now it is thought that baseball is coming back.

One test is the number of towns with a population between 500 and 1000 which are sponsoring sandlot teams. In 1940 only one of these towns, according to a survey made by the congress, had baseball clubs. Now four out of every five have teams.

This is encouraging for the future of the game. The DiMaggios and Musials of 10 and 20 years from today are lads now playing on corner lots.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Government's Part In Tucker Debacle

UNDER the 'Economic Expansion Act of 1949," sponsored by Senators Murray, Humphrey, Kefauver, Kilgore, McMahon, Pepper, Sparkman and Thomas, the President would receive wide powers to cooperate with businesses wanting to get under way and, when he deems it necessary, to put the government directly into business.

This is part of a plan "to develop prompt specific measures to help deal with. . . economic maladjustments." Note, in the light of what follows, that "prompt" and "specific" measures are the purpose of the plan.

Now, in view of the case of Preston Tucker and his favulous career recently highlighted by a federal indictment, let us consider what government cooperation may incolve.

For no doubt the sympathy and relationship of various political forces with the Tucker enterprise were inspired by a desire to set up a new business and encourage what the Murray plan calls "maximum employment, production, purchasing power and confidence." In any event, the help of various government agencies was essential to the huge enterprise projected by Tucker.

It ought to be noted that when government invests money or property in a business, it not only helps directly with that money or property, but because government is expected to be a smart investor, it encourages private investors to add their money.

Whether any of the people who invested in the Tucker enterprise were thus encouraged is not in the record. But that government agencies had provided reason for such encouragement is quite clear.

* * *

Investigation Flopped.

IT IS NOW evident that the deal for the $171,000,000 government plant was carried through with infinite consideration for Tucker and with tragic lack of business judgment.

Likewise, the War Assets Administration seemed to be unaware of facts known to other government agencies whuch should have prevented the conclusion of the deal.

The facts in this connection, which will come to light in later judicial proceedings and some of which have been revealed in a Senate investigation, were characterized by Senator Ferguson as "flagrant cases of maladministration and mismanagement."

The SEC, designated by its sponsors, including President Roosevelt, as a means of protecting investors, apparently did a poor job of protection in this case. Its purpose was politely called "disclosure."

The theory was good — namely, that after the SEC compelled complete recital of facts in a prospectus, investors were free to choose. There seems to be no question about truthfulness of the facts in the Tucker prospectus, but there does seem to be a question about whether the facts were sufficiently clearly stated and whether Tucker was not able to blanket the unpleasant facts by propaganda of his own. In any event, there is an SEC, despite which large investments were made in the enterprise.

The most conservative judgment of the situation is that if, under the Murray plan, the government is to become a partner and accelerator of private businesses, it will have to do better than it did in the Tucker case in investigating its prospects.

And by the time a real investigation is made in each case, it may be too late to provide "prompt" and "specific" measures to relieve shortages of employment and production.

The Nation Today

New Department Asked

By JAMES MARLOW

(Editor's Note: This is the second of several stories on President Truman's plans for reorganizing the government.)

* * *

WASHINGTON — President Truman wants to create a brand new government department, called the department of welfare.

This was one of the seven plans he laid before Congress this week as part of a program to reorganize the government and make it run better.

To understand why he did this, and the background of it, imagine you're looking at a chart of the government's make-up. You start with:

1. The nine big departments whose heads are members of the President's cabinet:

State, justice, labor, commerce, agriculture, interior, postoffice, treasury, and the military establishment (Army, Navy, Airforce).

2. Then you see the big independent agencies and commissions which stand alone, not connected with any department, such as:

The federal security agency; civil service commission; and the interstate commerce commission.

3. Then you see swarms of smaller agencies and bureaus tucked away inside of (because they're part of) the departments and the big independent agencies, such as:

The federal bureau of investigation (FBI) in the justice department; the U. S. office of education in the federal security administration (FSA).

Those big independent agencies, created from time to time to fit some special need, have grown with the years, in size and importance.

The FSA, for instance, with 35,000 employes, is bigger than three government departments:

The labor department has only 3,500 employes; the state department has 20,000; the justice department, 26,000. Next in size is the commerce department with 40,000.

* * *

Suggested By Others.

NOW Mr. Truman wants to create a new government department by changing the name of the FSA to that of the department of welfare. The FSA was established in 1939 but Mr Truman says creation of a department of welfare is long overdue. Why? He says of the FSA:

"The central purpose of the FSA is the conservation and development of the human resources of the nation . . . The range of its programs and the significance of their impact upon national development obviously entitle it to a place in the highest rank of federal organizations."

The FSA now has a number of agencies under its wing. If it became the department of welfare Mr. Truman would want it to keep those agencies which promote the health, welfare and social security of the people.

For example, the department of welfare would keep these agencies which the FSA has now:

U. S. public health service; social security administration; U. S. office of education; food and drug administration; and the bureau of employes' compensation (It handles injured government workers).

Other agencies, now part of FSA but which Mr. Truman thinks belong outside a welfare department, would be transferred elsewhere.

Mr. Truman points out the idea that a welfare department is needed is not new:

President Harding suggested it in 1923; and a special committee appointed by President Roosevelt in 1937 recommended a department of social welfare.

And the Hoover Commission—a special, 12-man commission appointed by Congress and headed by former President Hoover to suggest ways of making the government run smoother—recently recommended:

Setting up a government department to handle the social security and education jobs of the government.

Mr. Truman's plan doesn't follow in every detail the recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Timely Editorial

Teaching Courtesy.

Milwaukee, which leads cities in this country in many laudable undertakings, is teaching its employes manners. The public workers, paid by the taxpayers are attending lectures on the taxpayers' time to learn how to treat their bosses, once removed.

They learn how to meet the public with a smile, how to answer the telephone, how to direct queries or complaints to the right office or individual. Probably they even will be taught the art of the brush-off courteous. In city hall, a question box has been placed for public suggestions or criticisms.

It is a sound idea, one any city can use. Courteous employes win more friends and influence more votes.—Cleveland Press.

Views of Bradley and MacArthur Clash

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — An important, backstage battle has broken out between two of the nation's highest-ranking generals—Douglas MacArthur and Chief of Staff Omar Bradley.

General Bradley wants to withdraw American forces from all the Pacific except Japan and Hawaii — even out of the Philippines.

In case of war, Bradley argues that American forces caught in the Pacific outside Japan or Hawaii would be immediately sacrificed in another Bataan. Therefore, he wants all troops withdrawn to positions we can maintain.

General MacArthur, on the other hand, wants American troops strung out around the Pacific to create spheres of influence to stem the spread of communism. MacArthur is definitely opposed to withdrawing American troops from the Philippines and South Korea.

The tone of his cables has become so strong that mild-mannered General Bradley has been forced to remind him that he, Bradley, not MacArthur, is the chief of staff.

Dan Tobin's Warning

DAN TOBIN, head of the powerful Teamsters Union, has sent a confidential letter to all teamsters' locals, cautioning them against strikes and urging a conciliatory policy toward employers.

Tobin, intimate friend of the late President Roosevelt and a longtime power in the A. F. of L., started his letter by saying that he was fearful of today's economic situation and cautioned his locals against pushing good employers for wage increases.

Tobin commented at some length on the foolishness of the Ford strike at this time. He recognized that Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, was under compulsion from union membership, but said that Reuther would have been wiser to have ruled the situation with an iron hand and forbidden the strike.

Referring to his own union, Tobin was critical of the West Coast teamsters' strike and also of the teamsters in New York City. In the latter city bakery drivers had struck for an unwarranted increase, on the assumption that people had to eat bread so there must be bread deliveries. But with the strike many weeks old, consumers get along by buying from chain stores and independent bakeries, Tobin said.

Communist agitation inside labor unions also came in for criticism from the forthright teamsters boss. He said he had received reports of active communist leadership in one teamsters' local—which he declined to name. An investigation was being made, Tobin said, and these agitators would be fired from the union whether they signed non-communist affidavits or not.

Tobin also warned his teamsters that one trouble in union organizations was the inability and unwillingness of rank-and-file members to understand economic laws. He pointed out that while members of his union are unskilled, they receive annual returns higher than bricklayers, plasterers and skilled mechanics because of the fact that the latter suffer seasonal layoffs.

Anti-Highway Lobby.

CONGRESS is now probing the fact that the oil industry, which owes its prosperity to the gasoline burned on highways, is so shortsighted that it opposes new highways. Reason: To pay for the roads, many states are boosting gasoline taxes.

Yet extra taxes aren't paid by the oil companies, but by motorists. Yet the industry has already boosted "gas" prices so high they fear the public won't stand for both higher prices and higher taxes.

So, believe it or not, the oil lobby is actually fighting against building new roads.

Take North Carolina, for example: Gov. Kerr Scott, a hard-hitting liberal, submitted a $200,000,000 road program to the voters. To finance it, he proposed a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the state gasoline tax. The oil lobby immediately and bitterly opposed, appealed to city voters to block the program.

Meanwhile, in the rest of the nation, highways are in worse general condition than at any time since the depression. Yet the oil lobby continues to oppose new roads.

But here are the statistics: since 1945, the number of automobiles on the highways has increased by 10,500,000. Of these, 2,500,000 are trucks. All told, 100,000,000,000 ton-miles were traveled in 1948 — almost double the 1945 traffic. Yet only a paltry few million dollars have been added to the road bill. Because of inflation, even this increase in dollars really has been a decrease in purchasing power when it came to road building.

Result has been wear-and-tear on automobiles, irritating traffic snarls, and an increase in traffic deaths. What the public doesn't realize is that safety can be built into the roads. Yet the public, while paying more for automobiles and gasoline, has let the highways run down.

Assignment: America

How To Act In Europe

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — I read in the papers that everybody, but everybody, is going to Europe this summer.

Only about 147,500,000 of us will be left in the U. S. A. The other half million Americans will be swarming over Europe like ants in a sugar bowl.

From time to time, I have seen droves of Americans abroad. Honesty forces me to confess they did not always look happy.

So it has occurred to me that I might be performing a great public service if I could get down on paper what is known at home as the Robb system of how to be happy though abroad. (Note to typesetters: A b r o a d, boys, abroad. Don't make two words of that, at your peril.)

Out of a vast deal of experience, I feel that the two factors that contribute most to my happiness in foreign lands is (1) A complete inability to understand any foreign languages and (2) My total incapacity to add, subtract, divide or multiply.

As I see it, most American tourists are unhappy in foreign parts because (1) They can understand what the ungrateful natives are saying about them and (2) They are filled with the miseries because they are convinced all foreigners are confidence men out to chisel the American tourist out of his last hundred-dollar bill.

The Robb system automatically eliminates these twin hazards.

If you speak, as I do, only a poor patois of American, you are safe even from any faintly critical remarks about your dress, general appearance, your aptitude with that wad of bubble gum, your impatience with unfamiliar customs and your understandable annoyance that these dumb cluck foreigners can't understand English, even when spoke good, loud and slow.

Sticks and stones may break my bones, but harsh names in a foreign language make me no never mind. My system eliminates hot words, hurt feelings and bloody noses. Under this system, you get along just dandy because you don't know how to get along any other way.

It takes two to make a argument and if you can't argue—well, do you know a better system?

* * *

System That Works.

AND YOU are fully protected on the second count if, like myself you are unable to add even on your fingers. As far as I know, nobody anyplace in the world has ever chiselled me out of a thin dime.

Currency does nothing but confuse me, even American. I never get the hang of money in any foreign land, especially and notably in England where it includes fractions, an intolerable situation and one apt in the long run to prove more fatal than socialism, if you ask me.

Faced with this predicament, I had to devise a system. It has the virtue of being simple. I just hold out a hand full of pounds or francs or pesos or guilders and tell the nice people to take whatever I owe them.

If I wuz ever robbed, I never knew it.

As a result of my sure fire system, I am just crazy about foreigners. And — as far as I know—they are just crazy about me. This makes for great happiness, content and fine feeling on my part. With the Robb system, every venture into foreign lands is bound to be a success.

There is only one other word as I wish you all "bonvoyage." Never argue with the cops or custom officers in a foreign land. No matter how dumb, stupid and oafish they are, don't argue.

A long time ago, I found me a sure - fire way to deal with tough police and customs officers when abroad. If they get mean —and they seldom are—I let the big tears roll right out of my blue eyes. I just look sad and reproachful and cry.

Well sir, European men are no different from American men. The sweet things will do anything to keep a woman from bawling.

Farmer's Diary

Those Neglected Spots

By CALVIN A. BYERS

NEGLECTED places on nearly every farm might give pleasure and profit if planted in fruit trees or grapevines. The little steep spot on our northern slope was hard hit by locusts a year ago, and the young trees were stung so that the tops were left in rags.

I decided to prune off all dying wood, and the result on some trees, left only a few sharp spikes. The locusts did their work without regard for terminal branches or laterals. These injured crotches I pruned severly.

Now the peach and apple leaves are broad and waxy. Only cuculio is trying the taste of peach gum again. Another careful spray—the third—will be the last. After this is done, I hope to have enough fruit to sample the various varieties.

Tree roots go deep, distilling flavor from the deep subsoil. Only Providence could mix such sparkling juices and seal them in such showy appetizing packages for the health of old and young.

And neglected places often have more unspoiled goodness to give a fruiting tree or vine than places less remote. Vitamins are strange things, lively things, wild things, one might say.

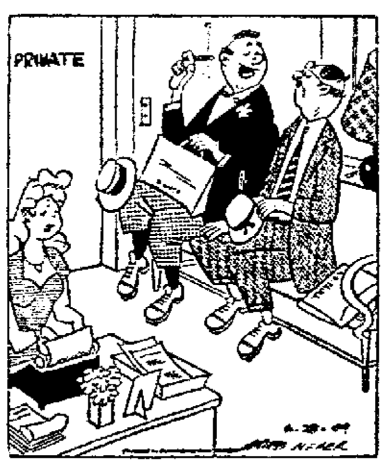
I have never forgotten a grape stalk that grew on a certain ledge in western New York state. The soil was almost lacking, and the vine had thrust its roots far back into the slate ledge where water trickled down the side.

Western New York is full of such rocky ledges. This stalk had clusters of rich purple grapes and the lusty flavor gave eager satisfaction to my inquiring appetite. I shared the feast with a friend.

Like me, he was deeply pleased and satisfied, so that many times we returned to that spot and made a beaten path during the autumn. They were actually the best grapes I have ever tasted.

It seems strange, too, that the same varieties of fruit taste differently according to where they grow. My grandfather's pear tree in the kitchen garden had a peculiar twang to the fruit —a Seckel pear, but richer and more complete than most such pears. Imported apples never have the zest of the Northern Spies that grew on the high old trees back home.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"I never have any trouble getting in to see Mr. Bromage. . . . I borrowed twenty dollars from him and everytime I call he expects me to pay it back!"

OF the 80 million Americans who will go "swimming" this year, only 7 per cent can swim well, another 43 per cent swim a little, and the remaining 50 per cent cannot swim a stroke.

Aquatics, swimming and lolling on the beach is the most popular recreational activity in this country today. But if history repeats itself which it has a tendency to do more than seven thousand persons will drown this season.

Red Cross and National Safety council tabulations note that in the eight years from 1940 through 1948 there has been a yearly average of 7,145 persons drowned.

Drowning is the second leading cause of accidental death among persons ranging in age from five to 24. Drowning is the fourth leading cause of all accidental deaths, being ranked only by motor vehicle accidents falls and burns.

How important it is to know how to swim and how to save a life is spotlighted by the fact that an average of 30 persons a day drown during the months of May June July and August.

It is a tragic fact that most drownings occur in water from seven to 10 feet deep and within 10 yards of where one can stand safely.

However, Americans like they always do when they face a problem are doing something about the horrifying death toll in water. There are now 25 347 trained Red Cross safety instructors passing on their knowledge of swimming and water safety to the people of America.

This summer 39 Red Cross national aquatic schools will turn out an additional 4 000 qualified water safety instructors for camps schools resorts industry and communities. Last year alone the Red Cross safety service issued 636 224 certificates for completion of swimming and life saving courses.

Study the posters on these pages before you go to the beach. They may save your life—or someone else's. Still better, help to waterproof America—to make every American a swimmer and every swimmer a life saver. And the place to start is with yourself and everyone in your family.

Every person should learn to swim as a basic physical skill.

You cannot think of a better sport—to save your life!

Uranium 'Inventory Discrepancy' Hinted at Oak Ridge

M'Mahon To Investigate Loss Report

AEC Probers Hear Production Chief

WASHINGTON — (INS) — An informed source yesterday described the "inventory discrepancy" in A-bomb uranium at Oak Ridge, Tenn., as "several thousand times" greater than the loss at the Chicago atomic laboratory.

Meanwhile, Walter J. Williams, Atomic Energy commission production chief, told Congress that the rate at which atom bombs are being manufactured is "okay."

Williams testified before the joint congressional atomic committee, now probing the AEC accounting system which reportedly fails to give an accurate record of amounts of vital materials used at Oak Ridge.

Although the commission asserted that "no A-bomb uranium is lost," committee chairman Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., said that the "inventory discrepancy" will be investigated until the issue is fully clarified.

Williams, an ex-army officer and a pioneer worker on A-bomb production, told the committee that the bomb program is "in good hands."

He declared:

"We have nothing to be ashamed of if you take it in balance.

"If you were permitted to tell the public what has been accomplished the people would feel that the situation has been in good hands and that the program as to bomb - making is okay."

Thirty-two grams of uranium 235 were first reported missing from the Argonne laboratory at Chicago but the AEC estimates the actual loss now at four grams. The commission has explained that 26 grams has been recovered in waste materials.

Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., said that he favors a public airing of the "discrepancy" at Oak Ridge. Millikin declared that whether it is "bookkeeping error or a loss" cannot be determined until the committee's investigation is finished.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, who is pressing his "incredible mismanagement" charge against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal, declined to say whether he will bring the Oak Ridge case into his investigation.

Hint Marion Strike To End

MARION —(INS)—The 75-day strike of Marion telephine workers may soon come to an end according to reports of conciliators.

Steven C. Eddy, U. S. conciliator from Cleveland, said that some progress has been made toward a contract between the Ohio Associated Telephone company and members of the independent Ohio Association of Telephone Workers.

The strike has seen dozens of trunk cables slashed in recurrent outbreaks of violence. Recently the head of the union narrowly missed death when a would-be assassin fired a shotgun blast into his pillow as he lay recuperating from an appendix operation.

Brain surgery was made possible by the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister and dates back only about 50 years.

LONDON, Ont. — Fred A. Andrews, 68, internationally - known poultry fancier, died Sunday.

Farm Tours Scheduled

Two days have been set aside at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster for conducting tours for special groups and for individuals from Ohio's northeastern counties, including Richland.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said the days set aside are June 30 and July 7. He asked that groups and individuals wishing to make the tours of the station contact his office so the station can be informed about the number of persons to expect.

The county agent said "open house" will be held on those days and that extension service specialists will assist the station staff with the tours. A total of 17 different tours will be conducted.

The program was set up by G. A. Hummon former Huron county agent, now assistant to the station's director.

Scheduled are five agronomy tours; two dairy tours, one at the main dairy barn and another of the pasture farm; three botany and plant pathology tours, two of which will be on plant diseases and the third on fruit disease control; four entomology tours; and animal science, poultry, horticulture and forestry tours.

American glassmaking was revolutionized by a carpenter of Sandwich, Massachusetts, who found in 1827 that glass could be hand-pressed in a mold. This brought glassware for the first time within the reach of every American home.

Safety Town To Open Monday At Prospect Playground

Safety Town will be at Prospect school playground for a period of two weeks, beginning Monday, for the boys and girls entering Prospect and Carpenter schools for the first time next year, Stanley W. Kamen, director of the city Recreation department, said today.

Each week day the program will be conducted from 9 to 11:30 a. m.

Safety Town is a safety education kindergarten program designed to teach safety to preschool age children through the use of miniature automobiles, street signs and an automatic traffic light.

It includes such kindergarten activities as safety songs, stories, games, art and project activities in addition to the safety education. At the conclusion of the two-week period, the boys and girls will receive certificates which will indicate that they have completed the course satisfactorily.

Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., will furnish a special bus to Safety Town for children from the Carpenter school district. There will be two stops: in front of Carpenter school at 9 a. m. and at Sturges and Glessner avenues at 9:05 a. m. The bus will return and discharge the children at these points at approximately 11:35 a. m.

The total cost to parents for giving their child full benefit of this kindergarten program for two weeks will be the bus fare, or $2, Kamen said.

An added attraction this year will be a program for the mothers who wish to accompany their children.

Run-Off Election Scheduled at Galion Perfection Steel

Fail To Get Majority Wednesday

Vote June 30 On IUOE Representation

GALION — Since no one group received a majority of votes in the National Labor Relations Board election yesterday at the Perfection Steel Body company there must be a run-off election.

The date for the next election to determine the bargaining agent for employes at the factory will be Thursday, June 30, between 2:30 and 4 p. m. The vote will be "yes" or "no" on the question, "Do you wish to be represented by the International Union of Operating Engineers?"

The election yesterday was conducted by Paul Weingarten of Cleveland, fild examiner for the NLRB. Out of 261 employes eligible to vote, 218 cast votes. Some of the 261 men had been laid off and did not come in to the plant to vote, while others did not vote at all. Results were. 107 votes for neither union; 70 votes for the International Union of Operating Engineers; 41 votes for the International Association of Machinists.

With no group getting a majority, this would leave a run-off election between the group that voted for neither union and the group voting for the IUOE

The United Steel Workers Union (CIO) attempted to secure a place on the ballot but were ruled off by the NLRB because officers of the union have not filed non - communist affidavits as required by the Taft-Hartley law.

Tellers for the election were: Raymond Claybaugh and Marion Newman, representing the IUOE Paul Courter and Charles Metzger, I. A. of M; Vern Carpenter who filed for decertification of the IUOEand Robert Wilson, representing the decertification group; William Mosher and Robert Miller, representing the company.

MRS. SIDNEY GREGORY

* * *

Newcomer To Mansfield Likes Living In Small Community

Charming Mrs. Sidney Gregory, a recent newcomer likes Mansfield extremely well although she says it differs greatly from her native London. She and her husband left England May 13 aboard the liner Queen Mary and after spending a week in New York, they came to Mansfield to make their home here.

At present they are living with Mrs E. M Smith, 375 Sturges avenue. Their new apartment on Davis road will soon be ready for occupancy and they will have their try at typical American housekeeping.

Mr. Gregory was sent to Mansfield from his firm in London, to work with the Barnes Manufacturing company. The couple was married in April.

Mrs. Smith's small daughter, Kathy, will be most unhappy when young Mrs Gregory goes into her own apartment. Kathy and the English girl have become good friends. Mrs. Gregory taught school in London and loves children. She says that the classes are very much larger in London schools, than the classes she has observed in this country.

Of course, the biggest difference between London and Mansfield is the size. Mrs Gregory likes living in a smaller community and is interested in the social activities that are possible in a smaller city.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, June 24

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

OVERACTING, "showoff" pretensions or other drastic or impulsive procedure might have power to complicate affairs already well on their way to profitable and happy consummation. The mind is in a state of confusion, indecision or doubt and the inclination to take action under the drive of impulses, and emotional tempests, could defeat and stand in the way of some sort of subtle solution of a surprising and intriguing nature. Better listen for underground promptings, idealistic and imaginative, rather than crass realism.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of peculiar experiences or contacts in which strange under-currents may have weight against rampant realism, and impelling, even though the mental approach may be wavering and dubious. Complications false moves, and untenable reasoning could ruin exceptional benefits arising from obscure or intriguing sources. Intuitions or "hunches" are keen, but should be analyzed on practical premises.

A child born on this day, wihle impulsive and ardent, may find itself making decisions from inner urges rather than logic and practical bases. Peculiar drives should be cautiously analyzed.

Fete Miss Miller With Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller, A Daughter and Son Celebrate

An unusual celebration will be observed Saturday June 25, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller, 19 Vernon Road, Shelby, celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bowman of Mansfield, Ohio, will observe their 30th Anniversary on the same date, and Mr. and Mrs. Judd C. Keller, of Plymouth, Ohio, will observe their 24th anniversary.

Mr. Keller, who is 73 years old, and Mrs. Keller, 71, have been lifelong residents of Richland County and have made a host of friends through their active participation in county, civic and community activities.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Keller were born near Ganges and have devoted the greatest share of their lives to farming in the vicinity of Shelby and Plymouth. In 1944, after 50 years of farming, Mr. Keller had sale and accepted a position with the Government Air Depot at Shelby. In the last five years, he has missed but two days' work because of illness.

Mr. Keller pioneered the transition from the rural district one room schools to centralized schools as a member of the Board of Education (Plymouth Twp.)

Mr. Keller is one of the oldest living members of the Ganges Band, the oldest band organization in the state. The band gained recognition outside the state but its popularity and fame was gained principally in Ohio where it played annual summer concerts in Shelby, Plymouth, Greenwich, fes- Shiloh; for Decoration Day activities, 4th of July celebrations, festivals, fairs, and virtually all types of community activities. Mr. Keller was a member of this unique organization for 57 years. During his fifty-seven years with his band, Mr. Keller played baritone, bass, French horn, and trombone.

He has been active in athletics as well as music. Mrs. Keller has been just as active in community life. Mrs. Keller was a member of the Sunshine Club and was prominent in church and community activities. They have seven children, all living and married, and fourteen grandchildren. Their oldest daughter is Mrs. Ira Bowman. Another daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Seitz, lives at 243 W. Main St., Shelby. Mr. and Mrs. Keller's other daughters are Mrs. Elmer Hampton, Pavonia, and Mrs. Robert Shedenhelm, Shelby. The sons are Judd C. Keller, Plymouth, Ohio; Albert R. Keller, who resides at 16782 Staholin, Detroit, Michigan; and Roscoe C. Keller, who resides at 1101 Lakeview, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller enjoyed an extended vacation last summer on a motoring trip to Washington D. C. and other eastern points of interest with the Bowmans. They then spent two weeks camping and fishing at Georgian Bay, Canada, and later at Lewiston, Michigan, in company with their two sons and their families from Detroit. Upon their return to Shelby, they purchased a lot and built a new home at 19 Vernon Road, Shelby. They moved into their new home in March.

The anniversary celebration will be observed with a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bowman, Route 1. The children and grandchildren will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller will have Open House for their many friends and acquaintances on Sunday, June 26, from two to four and seven to nine at the home at 19 Vernon Road, Shelby.

Control of Germany Slipping

Big 4 Parley Seen Failure

The dominating fact at the Paris meeting of the foreign ministers has been the tacit agreement that the big four are no longer able to make a German settlement. Their power and influence, severally and jointly, in German affairs is so reduced that they are not able any longer even to propose seriously alternatives on which they disagree.

The control of the German problem has slipped out of the hands of the foreign ministers and their four governments, and all they could do was to accept the fact that the outcome will now be shaped by events within Germany and elsewhere.

The difference between this meeting and all the meetings that preceded it, between the meeting itself and the preparations which led up to it, has been that instead of a conflict of policies there is now an absence of policies.

Mr. Acheson did not have one plan for Germany. None of the foreign ministers had any plan which he believed in so seriously and so sincerely that he was prepared to fight for it, even to advocate it.

There were some perfunctory proposals made in general and ambiguous terms. But no one had a plan which he believed could be accepted by the four powers.

No one had a plan which he wanted to have accepted by the four powers. No one had a plan which he wanted to be identified with enought to have to explain it to the Germans and to his own partners and allies.

For in both Western and Eastern Germany the time has passed when the occupying powers have the power to make and impose plans on Germany. The difference of the Foreign Ministers reflected the knowledge that any plan they would offer seriously would not merely produce a sterile quarrel among them but would cause reactions among the Germans and among their own allies and satellites.

They chose the only course open to them which was to wait to see, and to take time out for a re-examination—freed from the immediate threat of war—of a situation which is developing in ways that neither the Russians nor the Westerners foresaw, expected, or can now effectively control.

The council of foreign ministers will, it is reported, meet again. When it does meet again, it will amost certainly be even more evident than it is now how very limited indeed have become its powers to settle with Germany.

Cos Lettuce Choice of Chefs

By DEAN HALLIDAY

(By Central Press)

Chefs prefer cos lettuce for salads and other uses because of its tenderness and delicious flavor, and many home gardeners are finding it their choice, too.

When properly bleached it compares favorably with head lettuce and it does well even in hot weather. Being more or less upright in growth, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, it does not require much space in the home garden.

There are two types of cos or romaine lettuce, one that is self-folding, and therefore, self-blanching, the other that has more of a spreading growth and must be tied up for perfect blanching, as illustrated.

A popular self-folding type is Trianon, prized for its crispness and flavor. The firm, upright heads are about 10 inches high, and the leaves grow closely together, blanching the heart perfectly white. Even the outer leaves are tender.

White Paris is another folding type of cos lettuce. Its leaves are dark green, forming oval-shaped heads with greenish-white interior. The entire plant is tender and palatable.

Dark Green Cos has the same characteristics as the White Paris with outside leaves a darker green color. It folds well, forming a good firm head and when fully blanched the leaves are light green with mid ribs as white as the heart.

Cos lettuce should be sown at the same time and manner as head lettuce, but does not require as much room in the row, 6 to 8 inches being sufficient.

Bibb lettuce is another type growing in popularity with home gardeners. It grows close to the ground and does not actually make a head but pinches up somewhat in the center.

Vote Hits Poll Tax

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The House administration committee reversed its subcommittee yesterday and approved a bill to prohibit the staes from levying poll taxes.

The anti-poll tax bill is sponsored by Chairman Mary T. Norton, D., N. J., of the administration committee. A subcommittee which held hearings on the measure voted 4 to 3 to delay action on it until the judiciary committee has had a "reasonable time" to consider a proposed constitutional amendment.

The full committee voted 11 to 7, however, to go ahead and approve the bill without waiting for the judiciary committee study.

Mrs. Norton's bill would prohibit states from imposing poll taxes in either primary or general elections where federal offices are at stake. Similar legislation has passed the House in the past but has always died in the Senate.

FLAYS FBI—Judith Coplon, fighting the charge of espionage filed against her by the United States, yesterday took the witness stand to level a blast at the FBI. She claimed her arrest preceded a night of "terror" as she was questioned. Above her mother is shown offering her encouragement before she took the stand and was trapped into admitting she had hotel room trysts with a government official.

PITTSFIELD, Mass. —(UP)— This Berkshire city has found a street it never knew it owned. It is Gulf road, 300 feet long and formerly believed to be owned by the neighboring town of Dalton. A survey disclosed, however, that it belongs to Pittsfield and —badly needs repairs.

Blasts Slums In New York

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Franklin D. Roosevelt jr., who recently visited both refugee and displaced persons camps overseas, said today that nowhere did he see sanitary conditions as bad as those in Philadelphia and New York slums.

Roosevelt, newly-elected to represent New York's 20th district, made his observation after a bi-partisan group of congressman took a first-hand inspection tour of housing in these two important cities.

Roosevelt observed that he recently had seen both refugee camps in the Middle East and displacd persons camps in Europe. He said:

"Nowhere did I see sanitary conditions as bad as these we have seen in Philadelphia and in New York."

All the raw materials used in the making of fine American handmade glass tableware are handed down from grandfather to grandson. At least ten years of intensive training are required before a man is regarded as skilled.

Rays Aiding Biologists

MONTREAL — AP — An improved kind of atomic age photography has been developed at McGill university. Thin slices of body tissues, containing radioactive atoms are coated with a fluid photographic emulsion. These radioactive atoms furnish the rays which affect the photographic material.

This helps locate biological processes within structures of the body so small that they cannot be seen without a microscope. This new contact picture shows the positions of the radioactive atoms, within a thousandth of an inch, or less.

In this way McGill doctors have observed the entry of iodine into the thyroid gland

Thyroids are power houses, making out of iodine a hormone which energizes every organ in the body. The hormone is manufactured, as the radioactive photos showed, within units of the thyroid gland called follicles. These follicles are microscopical little balls resembling baseballs with unusually thick covers. What happens is seen by giving an animal some radioactive iodine.

The iodine atoms enter the cover of the living follicle. There they are transformed from inorganic iodine into the organic form. This is done by hooking the iodine atoms onto molecules of proteins in which the thyroid hormone is formed. The transformed radioactive atoms enter the interior of this thyroid baseball, which is a jelly-like protoplasma.

In the latter the energy hormone is formed. The radioactive iodine goes into this hormone, and traces the next step when the finished hormone, now a much smaller molecule, passes through the follicle cover and out into the circulating blood.

The radioactive iodine made it possible to prove that this hormone is identical with thyroxin, the synthetic manufactured by the pharmaceutical industry and used by people whose thyroid are not producing enough.

The picture making atoms also showed where the thyroxine deposits, in liver, kidney, heart, breasts and to a lesser extent in all tissues and organs. The poser hormone is uniformly scattered, except in a few organs in which it concentrates in special areas.

Children's Pennies Footed Bill For Congressmen To Visit Statue

Because Congress refused to foot the bill for the Statue of Liberty's pedestal Joseph Pulitzer's N. Y. World passed around the hat. Within 5 months he had more than enough. Most of the money was raised via penny, nickel and dime donations by school children.

After the pedestal was paid for—a reserve fund of several hundred dollars was left over.

Pulitzer spent the money in a deliberately ironic manner: He chartered a train from Washington and transported congressmen to Bedloe's Island — to witness the dedication of the pedestal they refused to build.

A New Yorker named Andrew Haswell Green played a vital role in creating Central Park which was built as a relief project. Because of his contribution during the park's formation, the huge patch of greenery contains a strange yet fitting tribute to Green.

You can find it near the lake: A Memorial Bench.

Among little known facts is that the Pilgrims first landed in New York harbor. The bigoted Dutch Governor of Our Town, however, gave them a quick heave-ho. He considered them undesirable immigrants and goshawful furriners — and ordered the Captain of the Pilgrim's ship to take them further North.

That's why they finally dropped anchor near Plymouth Rock.

There's a dramatic yarn behind the building of the Brooklyn Bridge. It took 12 years to erect. During that time chief engineer W. A. Roebling was partially paralyzed and bed-ridden. His wife acted as his intermediary during the long and tedious task — and she was the first to drive across the structure after it was completed.

This will give you an idea of the achievement the Brooklyn Bridge represented: Its opening was celebrated as a national holiday.

Nowadays actors only have to contend with sharp-shooting reviewers. But during Washington's era thespians ran the risk of physical abuse. . . Theatres were unheated and bench-lined — footlights were candles — which caused theatres to be fire hazards.

If performances displeased the unruly audiences, actors were targets of eggs and other missiles. Frequently they were forced to defend their histrionics with bare knuckles after the show.

Washington (A theatre-lover) once offered rewards to reporters who would publish the names of those who flung eggs at actors.

The Woolworth skyscraper was built as a result of a personal peeve The Met Insurance Company once refused to give Frank Woolworth a loan. He never forgot it.

While in Calcutta, Woolworth noticed a postcard showing the Met Tower and the note that it was the world's tallest building. Woolworth ordered his architect to plan one taller.

Tom Paine spent the last years of his life in New York. Wanting to do something nice for the aging firebrand, the city decided to name a street after him. Paine, however, preferred to be remembered by his writings. So it was that "Reason street," was named to honor his book, "The Age of Reason."

New Yorkers called it Raisin street but today it no longer exists.

French Driver Gets Thrill From Playing Highway Chess At 60 Per

To understand a Frenchman all you have to do is to take a ride with him in his motor car.

After five miles you will know the spirit of France better than if you had read a hundred histories. You will never again sell the French short, or believe they are through as a nation.

For the Frenchman hasn't let the machine age take romance out of his life His motor car isn't just an instrument to get him somewhere efficiently. It's a four-wheeled adventure—a vehicle that lets him play highway chess at 60 miles an hour

I learned all I want to learn about the dauntless character of the French the other day in a ride from Caen to Paris. My fellow passengers were two exjeepmates from the war days—George Hicks of the National Broadcasting company and Jack Thompson, the Chicago Tribune's bearded military expert.

Our voiture was a new tiny model Renault. In a Detroit factory it might be stepped on as an oversize cockroach. But these little cars, which sell for $800 to $900 and get 50 miles to a gallon of gas, are popular in France.

We three shoehorned in with the driver but had some trouble closing the door. It kept rebounding from Jack's beard. Finally he managed to twist his head. Someone outside quickly slammed the door, and we were off.

There has been no ride like it since Paul Revere rode to spread the alarm and Sheridan galloped to Winchester, 15 miles away.

It turned out our driver wasn't just a chauffeur. He was Barney Oldfield and Sir Malcolm Cambell. He was D'Artganan carrying a message for the queen. He was Roland, blowing his horn at Roncesvalles. And when huge trucks bore down on us he was "Papa" Joffre, the rock of the Marne.

Down the road our little car sped at 100 kilometers an hour like a maddened waterbug. Our driver drove like a Frenchman making love or painting a picture — with zip, passion, artistic frenzy.

We grazed the handlebars of bicycles, and the peeled off to the right. We skinned the paint off motor cars coming at us, and they sheered off to the left.

"Anybody got a can opener — let's bail out," someone screamed

Then we got caught in a series of traffic jams. Elsewhere in the world when there is a traffic jam, the vehicles come to a tangled halt, unable to move.

Not on the road to Paris. The bigger the jam the faster it moves. Everybody gears up and hundreds of cars going in opposite directions thread through each other in shifting, weaving honking masses at 60 miles an Stop! Halt' Slow Down!" we yelled. The driver turned, grinned, circled a truck and picked up speed. He wanted the Americans to have a good time.

After the third traffic jam I found myself mumbling a codicil to my will. Hicks was murmuring what I took to be a prayer. Thompson's beard was turning a silent blue.

By some miracle we reached Versailles, on the outskirts of Paris. As suddenly as it had erupted in frenzy, traffic slowed down to a gentle, 50 - mile - an hour crawl.

It was then we discovered our driver was boiling mad. By gesture and phrase he let us know why It seemed a truck had swerved into his path without honking a horn And he was angry because he hadn't crashed head on into the truck to punish it.

"A Frenchman would rather get into an accident if justice is on his side than avoid an accident and feel he had not insisted on his rights," he said with dignity.

That is all anyone needs to know about the French spirit. He'll hold on to it — even if it lands him a ditch.

Power Failure Halts City Pumps

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL
THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1949 TELEPHONE 7231-6 PAGE FIFTEEN

Accidents Hit Area 3 Times

500 Users Affected

A city-owned electrical current transformer at the Maxwell Springs pumping station burned out at 8:55 p. m. yesterday, shutting off the pumps and cutting service to power users in the area for approximately an hour last night, it was reported today by Joy A Herbert, division manager of the Ohio Public Service company

Service-Safety Director Earl Garrison and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said this morning they had not been advised of the shut-off. Pressure in the city's water lines was unaffected because of the ample reserve supply in Woodland reservoir.

Herbert said repairs were completed at 10:05 p. m. and that electrical service to residences was restored a few minutes later

This marked the third power failure within a week for the pumping station and some 500 OPS customers in the Hastings road-Possum Run road area, Herbert said All the failures were unpreventable, he added.

The first occurred last Friday at 3:50 a. m. when a cut-out failed on the Hastings road.

"No defects could be found in the materials," Herbert said. "And we can only assume that the line was struck by lightning." This also cut out the city pumping station power, but it was restored in 30 minutes.

OPS employe, G. B. Leonard was killed while attempting a repair this break.

"Monday at 4:50 p. m." Herbert continued, "a resident of this same area cut a tree which fell across a high tension line, shutting off service to about 500 subscribers, as well as the pumping station. We got power to the pumping station in 40 minutes but it was impossible to complete repairs so that service was restored to all private users until 8:30 p. m."

Herbert added that OPS will be glad to supervise felling of trees in any area where power lines might become involved."

Insurance Men Hear Firm Head

Nail Says Year's Business 'Favorable'

C. F. Nail, president of the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company, told the firm's agents' advisory council today that the company's business volume and loss payments during the first five months of this year compared "very favorably with the first five months of last year."

Approximately 50 agents from 30 states were in Mansfield today for their fifth annual meeting.

Nail told the visiting insurance agents that the fire losses of the nation have followed a fairly regular pattern for the past 50 years, and that each decade makes a complete cycle.

"The country experienced its heaviest losses, in relation to premiums, of the present cycle in the year 1946," Nail told the group. "The country should now experience several years of slowly declining fire losses", he predicted.

Dale G. Roth, secretary of the company, spoke to the group on taxes paid by Mutual Insurance companies.

TALKS ON TAXES

He told the councillors that the popular belief that Mutual Insurance companies do not pay taxes is erroneous, explaining the increasing tax burden which is being shouldered by insurance companies.

S. F. Coffin, Lumbermen's vice president, outline what is expected of all insurance agents by the companies they represent.

The investment portfolio was discussed by D. P. Smith, secretary of the company.

Two out-of-town speakers also addressed the group at this morning's session. They were James C. O'Connor of Cincinnati, editor of The National Underwriters, and Howard F. Russell, manager of the Improved Risk Mutuals of New York City.

This afternoon the group was to play golf at Westbrook Country club, while a banquet for the visiting agents and their wives is planned tonight at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The concluding business session is scheduled for Friday morning, to be followed by a luncheon at Westbrook Country club at 1 p. m.

Russell Davis, vice president in charge of sales with the Lumbermens company, will preside at all the meetings.

Three Injured In Auto Upset

Three Galion teen-agers were injured at 10:15 p. m. yesterday when their automobile upset on State Route 545, near the Jackson road intersection southeast of Galion.

Donald Eugene Hough, 20, of 750 East Church street, driver of the car, was taken to Galion City hospital for treatment of a four-inch scalp wound, lacerated left leg and shock. Robert Shaeffer, 19, First avenue, and Mary Rivers, 17, East Walnut street, were treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

State highway patrolmen from the Marion barracks investigated the accident. They reported Hough apparently lost control of the car after crossing a hump in the road. The automobile turned over, headed in the opposite direction, and came to rest on its side. It was badly damaged.

LANDMARK GOES—Three workers with the Funk Brothers Tree Service of Jeromesville cut down a 150-year-old white oak tree beside U. S Route 30-S They are, left to right, Kenneth Funk, Herbert Young and Harold Funk

Tree Called Road Hazard

Workers Cut Down Big Oak

A large white oak, estimated to be at least 150 years old, which stood dangerously close to U. S. Route 30S, just west of Ontario, has been cut down by order of the state highway department.

The tree, which has been struck by lightning several times in the past four years, was ordered removed from the farm property of W. S. Brook, Mansfield, R. D. 6, by Clarence Tugend, county superintendent of the State Highway department.

Tugend said today that each time the tree has been struck by lightning branches have been torn off and strewn along the much-traveled highway. In addition, Tugend said, the tree's location was too close to the highway for safety.

Workers said today that approximately 20 cords of wood will be produced from the tree, all of which will be turned over to the farmer.

Work on the tree's removal was started Tuesday by the Funk Bros. Tree Service company of Jeromesville, under the supervision of state highway forces. It is expected that the work will be completed today, Tugend said.

Crestline's Post Office In 1st Class

CRESTLINE — Increased postal receipts here last year have resulted in the local post office being classified as a first class office, effective July 1, F. M Peters, assistant postmaster, announced today Since carrier service became effective in 1908, Crestline has been a second class post office.

Paul Hayes, Crestline postmaster, was notified of the reclassification by Postmaster General Donaldson of Washington. A first class post office must handle postal receipts totaling $40,000 annually During 1948 Crestline's receipts totaled $53,000.

The postal growth is attributed to the community's population growth.

The reclassification will result in a salary increase for the postmaster and higher rentals for post office boxes.

Pilot's Skill Saves 43 Aboard Airliner

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— A pilot's skill and split-second judgment were credited today by the American Airlines with bringing 43 persons alive through a jolting crash landing followed by fire.

Thirty-eight of those aboard the huge two-engine Convair were injured when the airliner crashed two minutes after taking off from Municipal airport here yesterday.

Spokesmen for American airlines lauded Capt. Ed Hatch of Memphis for his skill and judgment in crash-landing the craft in a field after skidding it across a highway and into a large tree.

The craft, the Fort Worth-to-New York "City of San Antonio," nosed down three and a half miles from here.

When Captain Hatch brought it to a stop, company spokesmen said, a wing was smashed, an engine was ablaze, and its gasoline was loose.

Thirty - eight persons were treated at hospitals but 18 were released None of the others was reported in critical condition.

Hatch noticed engine trouble after the takeoff and found his remaining engine running hot. He could try to crash land or make it back to the airport. He decided to land in the field. The plane narrowly missed striking high tension wires.

3 AKRONITES HURT

Four Ohioans were among the 36 persons injured.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED—

Workmen at the Possum Run golf course yesterday found three old issues of Farm and Fireside magazine while working on the clubhouse attic. Oddly enough, one of the issues happened to be dated Nov. 1, 1904, the day Mrs 'Billie' McGhee, wife of the club professional, was born Ads in the 45-year-old papers showed "split hickory special buggies" on sale at $50 and the new Multiscope along with viewing pictures at an undisclosed price. "Not an entirely new invention but the latest and most improved", the ad read Featured article in the magazine-paper was one written by Gibson William Harris titled "my Recollections of Abraham Lincoln" As compared with today's magazines, Farm and Fireside sold 24 issues for 25 cents.

Public Religious Education Wedge Driven In Ohio Senate

The opening wedge in a battle to re-instate non-sectarian religious education in Ohio public schools was made this week when the Senate education committee of the Ohio legislature recommended passage of a bill to permit such training in public schools

The legislation which requests Congress to permit religious education in public schools is known as the Baker-Schwartz-Sullivan bill. It was introduced by Crawford County Representative Carl Baker.

Religious education was discontinued in Mansfield public schools last fall after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled religious education within schools was unconstitutional.

Since that time Bible instruction for Mansfield children has been conducted by city churches outside the schools through after-school-hour classes and vacation Bible schools.

Origin of the movement in the Ohio legislature is credited to Mrs. Ralph P. Thomas, a member of Olentangy chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Galion. At Mrs. Thomas' suggestion, the chapter went on record last January as an organization supporting the Ohio Council of Churches and the Ohio Council of Religious Education to favor whatever steps were deemed necessary to advance religious education in public schools.

The Senate education committee held a hearing on the bill Tuesday night in Columbus and voted four to one to recommend its passage.

Melons Excellent, Tomatoes Still High

Retail Meat Costs Skid In Wake of Wholesale Drop

(By Associated Press)

Lamb and pork prices dropped several cents a pound this week in many marketing centers, reflecting last week's sharp decline at wholesale.

Beef, veal and poultry also were a little lower. Eggs edged upward slightly. Butter was about unchanged. And on the produce counters, canteloupes led a long list of fruits and vegetables cheaper this week, with only tomatoes generally higher.

A survey of competitive chain store prices across the country showed loin chops down as much as 20 cents a pound in some places, and the average decline around 9 cents. Meat spokesmen said the high prices of the past several weeks had virtually priced lamb out of the market for the average housewife, and the present downtrend resulted from consumer price resistance plus larger receipts from Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The pork price declines ranged from two to 10 cents a pound, but there were indications the downswing was levelling off as receipts dwindled.

Meat buyers said hot weather in many sections of the country was keeping demand slow on meats which require long cooking. The price declines were broadest on roasts and stewing cuts, smaller on chops and steak. Shopper interest focused on cold cuts, chicken fryers and broilers and on dairy products.

Demand for canteloupes and watermelons also was brisk, but shipments of these hot-weather specials were heavy enough to send prices skidding. The A & P food chain announced the two fruits would be its nationwide headliners this week-end and said canteloupes this season "are the best quality in several years." This was confirmed by Agriculture department spokesmen, who added that honeydew and honeyballmellons also are excellent and in good supply.

Tomatoes averaged about three cents a pound higher than last week as the Texas crop neared the end of its season. Early summer tomatoes from Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, South Carolina and Mississippi, as well as California, were arriving in increasing amounts, however, and shipments from states as far north as New Jersey were expected in a week or so.

Produce men said lettuce was at rock-bottom prices in most markets. Snap beans, cabbage, celery, corn, cucumbers and peaches all were lower.

Attendance Gains At Cedar Point

Attendance at Cedar Point on the opening day of the season Saturday was estimated at more than 10,000, about 50 per cent greater than last year's first day. Approximately 2,200 cars checked through the gates, officials said.

Elliott Lawrence and his band will play a one-night stand at the park's Grand ballroom Tuesday night.

Set Date For FEPC Action

COLUMBUS — ℗ — Ohio legislators make their final decision on a compulsory FEPC law next Wednesday.

Senate Democrats made the date official in caucus after Tuesday's session. Leaders said representatives will vote on the question when senators vote.

The Senate - House conference committee announced agreement on a "compromise" FEPC bill yesterday. The vote was 4 - 2. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum (D-Cuyahoga) said the committee reports its decision to both houses today.

WOMAN ENVOY—Mrs. Perle Mesta, a Washington hostess and heavy supporter of the Democratic party, has been nominated by President Truman to be U. S. minister to Luxembourg. She is the first woman envoy in President Truman's administration.

Mrs. Eisler Deported

NEW YORK —(UP)— Immigration authorities announced that Mrs. Gerhart Eisler, wife of the communist leader who fled the United States, was deported to Poland yesterday by plane.

A terse announcement from the office of Edward O'Shaughnessy, district director of immigration and naturalization, ended the controversy over Mrs. Eisler, who had sought to leave this country voluntarily since her husband escaped. She had been held at Ellis island on a technical charge of overstaying her visitor's visa.

Magellan in 1520 found South America's mountainous southerntip island "stark with eternal cold." He named it Tierra del Fuego (Land of Fire) many fires blazing to keep warm, says the National Geographic Society.

Typhoid Strikes Young Men

Official Flays 'Vacation' Diseases

COLUMBUS —(INS)—One of the summer time, vacatime time diseases which causes public health authorities even more concern than the dreaded polio is a man's disease—a young man's sidease.

This is typhoid fever and its nephew, paratyphoid.

Dr. Charles R. Freebie, head of the communicable diseases division of the State Health department explains that typhoid is spread by the four F's. These are food, fingers, flies and feces, with the emphasis on food and its attendants, milk and water.

Freeble says the disease primarily attacks young people and that males seem to be slightly more susceptible than women.

He explains the phenomenon in this fashion:

"Young people, and particularly the boys are more likely to wander down the road a piece. They take a drink when they're thirsty and their food where they find it.

"The old folks, they stay a little closer to home where things are run a little more on a system.

Freeble says "carriers" spread the disease too, but little is known how they accomplish that without killing themselves. The carriers are persons who bear typhoid germs in their bodies without being sick themselves.

Usually they are people who have had typhoid, Freeble says, but still they don't run true to the usual theories of immunity.

The doctors says carriers frequently are women and the germs often lodge in the gall bladder. He explains that a carrier can be controlled by law but that public health workers much prefer to work through education of the individual concerning his responsibility to society – emphasizing persuasion rather than force.

The two solutions open to most carriers, Freeble says, are to have the gall bladder removed or stay away from preparation of food for the public.

Freeble says there's some reason for the high rate of reported polio cases, but the thing that irks his soul is that typhoid goes right along at a steady rate from year to year.

This is particularly irritating, he says, when you consider that so much is known about typhoid. Freeble says:

"In the case of polio, they don't even know which virus causes it, but in typhoid, they've known the virus for years. They know what causes it, how it's spread and all about it. Still the disease goes on taking lives, causing thousands of cases of illness and sucking money from the public and the private purse."

Murder Case Goes To Jury

COLUMBUS — (INS) — An all-woman jury in Columbus was to decide today the fate of 27-year-old Clay Patterson of Ironton who admitted shooting his wife to death last January 24.

Patterson's testimony yesterday closed the defense. Patterson told the jury he saw "red" when his wife made a taunting remark to him about the way she intended earning money that evening she left a Columbus grill.

On trial for his life, Patterson said he began firing bullets from a .32 caliber revolver into her as she left the grill where she worked as a waitress.

Women generally have slightly heavier brains than men in proportion to the size of their bodies.

U. S. Bares New Ban On Red Fliers

Seek To Enforce Security Measure

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The government plans to ban nationals of Russia and other iron curtain countries from flying American airplanes over the United States and its possessions after this summer.

Federal air officials who disclosed the plan said the move is designed "to tighten present national security provisions." It is similar to a Soviet ban against American flying in eastern Europe.

The ban also will prohibit nationals of France, Finland and a few minor countries from flying U. S. planes in this country and its territories because these nations have refused to grant foreign permits to Americans

The action will apply to diplomats and newly-arrived foreigners, as well as the thousands of foreign-born persons who live in the U. S but have never become American citizens

At the same time, it was learned that the government may order top-secret "security checks", involving the FBI and central intelligence agency, on all other foreign citizens who apply for pilot licenses.

This regulation also is expected to be put into effect late this summer. But the Civil Aeronautics administration is awaiting reports from the FBI and State department on its feasibility and cost before making any final decision

The CAA and the Civil Aeronautics board already have drafted regulations to effect the flying ban. Officials said it will be made effective "in about two months"

Citizens of Russia and the rest of eastern Europe already are restricted from flying planes of their own or other countries over the U. S. and its territories. Similar prohibitions against American planes are in effect throughout the Soviet bloc.

The CAA has not definitely decided if it will revoke the existing licenses of foreigners when the flying ban or "security checks" are begun.

CAA officials estimated that there are now about 5,000 foreign nations who hold licenses to fly planes in this country and its possessions

Policemen Now Must Clear Crash Debris

PRICHARD, Ala. — (UP) — Police cars here now have new equipment.

Officers were instructed to stop their squad car whenever they see any broken glass in the street and get out and use the broom.

Reds Reveal 'Corruption'

MOSCOW — (UP) — The Soviet naval organ Red Fleet said today that U S occupation forces in Japan, from Gen Douglas MacArthur down, were involved in widespread corruption and general misconduct

The publication said that in Kyoto alone MacArthur acquired antiques worth 300,000,000 yen (nominally $833,333) It added that he bought big blocks of stocks in Japanese shipping, and with his wife accepted lavish gifts from Japanese industrial and financial magnates

Other American generals, lower ranking officers, privates and civilians alike accumulated fortunes. Red Fleet charged carrying off gold plate, platinum bars, silks and precious jewels

'Ez' Ready To Battle All Comers

By JACK CUDDY

CHICAGO—(UP)—Ezzard Charles won the National Boxing association's recognition as world heavyweight champion by outpointing Jersey Joe Walcott last night, and he was ready today to fight any other contender to prove himself undisputed champion.

The slender Cincinnati Negro won a close 15-round decision over 35-year-old Walcott before 25,932 fans at Comiskey park in a fight that slowed in the late rounds. It drew a gross gate of $246,546, and $35,000 for television receipts.

Charles, outweighed by 13¾ pounds but younger by eight years, won the verdict of the three ring officials. The three officials voted a total of 233 points for Charles and 217 for Walcott.

CHALLENGE WINNER

At a victory party immediately following the fight, Charles' manager, Jake Mintz, announced that he was going to London for the Sept. 6 bout between Lee Savold and England's Bruce Woodcock to fling a challenge at the winner for a fight with the new NBA champ.

He said he hoped to arrange to have the fight scheduled for late September or early October in London or New York.

A meeting between Charles and the London winner would be recognized as the undisputed crown by the New York and Massachusetts commission and by the British boxing board of control—none of which recognized Charles as result of last night's battle.

On a round-by-round basis, the United Press scored the Walcott-Charles fight even, giving each six rounds and calling three even. However, the United Press scored 76 points for Charles and 74 for Jersey Joe.

Ezzard and Jersey Joe fought for the title that Joe Louis gave up last March—the title Louis won in Comiskey park exactly 12 years previously by knocking out Jim Braddock in the eighth round.

Walcott was awarded the sixth on a foul by Referee Davey Miller because of Charles' low blows.

Charles, 181¾ pounds, appeared to be forcing the fight in most of the rounds, for he kept moving toward Walcott, who weighed 195½. However, as he moved he rarely did the leading. He feinted, he stepped in and out, and he left openings in an attempt to draw Jersey Joe into the lead. And it was Jersey who did most of the leading, although he evoked boos from the crowd by side-stepping and back-pedalling in some of the later rounds.

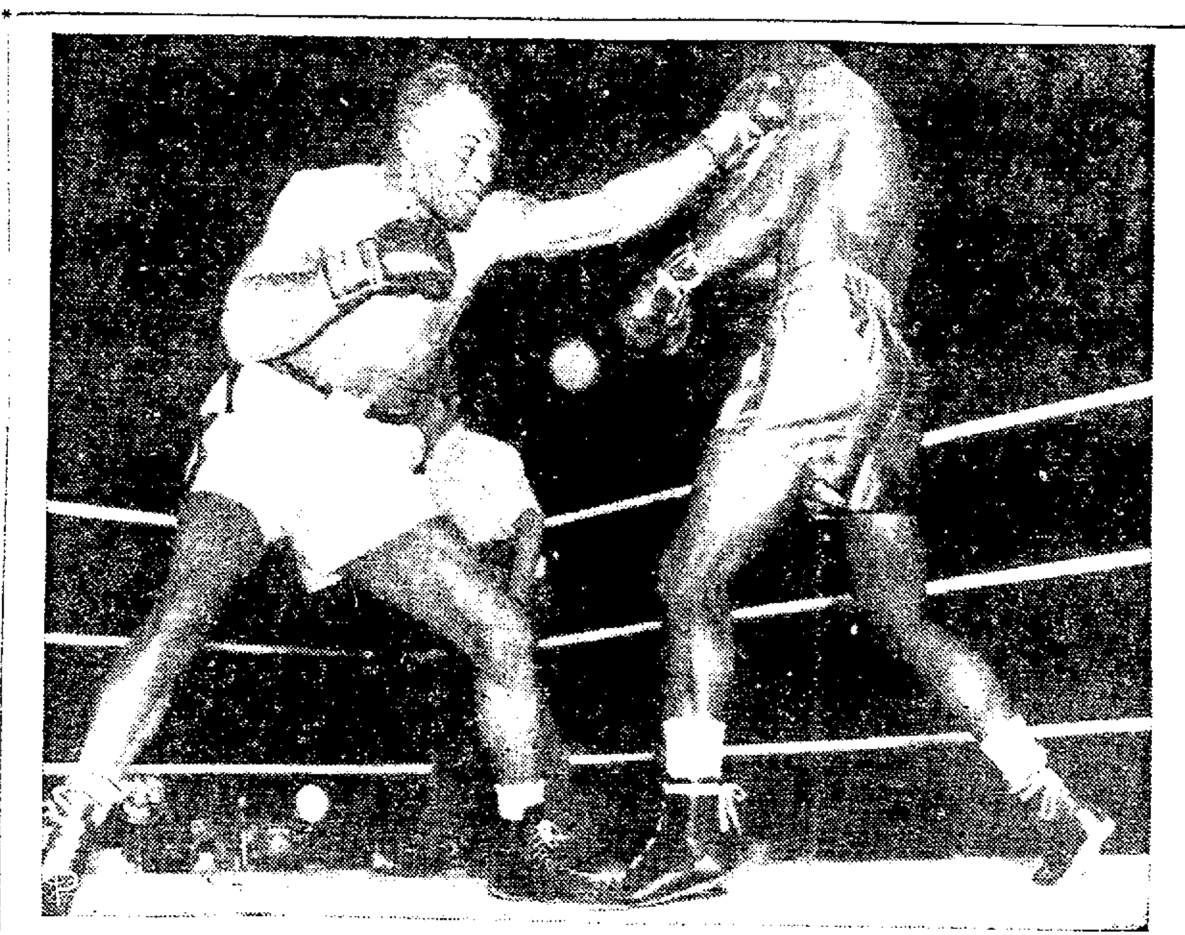
STAGGERS JERSEY

Charles did his greatest damage in the seventh and 10th sessions. After Ezzard had been thrown to the canvas in the seventh, he rose and staggered his stocky, bull-shouldered opponent with a right to the chin.

Then Charles sent Joe floundering about the ring with three more right smashes to the head. It seemed that Walcott was about to be belted out.

Each contender received 25 per cent of the net gate and 25 per cent of the television receipts, or a total of about $55,000 each.

In the dressing room, Walcott complained that Charles had used foul tactics in many of the rounds. He demanded a return bout.



WALCOTT LANDS—Fighting for the heavyweight title vacated voluntarily by Joe Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott lands a left to the side of Ezzard Charles' head. A crowd of about 25,000 gathered in Comiskey Park, Chicago, to see Charles become champion of the world by winning an unanimous 15-round decision. (International Soundphoto).

Ezzard To Stay Bachelor; Joe Calls 'Champ' Dirty

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO —(UP)—Ezzard Charles, with nearly $55,000 in hard cash and a world boxing championship in his kick, had an unusual complaint today for a 27-year-old youth with such stellar qualifications.

"Get married?" he said. "Not me. I don't know if I can even get a girl."

But Charles, a Cincinnati Negro, found Jersey Joe Walcott last night often enough and hard enough with his boxing gloves to rake in the cash and the NBA recognized world heavyweight championship.

He worked up a sweat, and admitted it was a "hard fight," but he's ready for more.

"I'm just going back to Cincinnati and stay in shape for my manager to get me some more fights," he said, "and I don't care who he gets."

Charles was accused of "dirty" fighting by Walcott, but the new champion, nursing two cuts on his left eye, two cuts on his lower lip and a bruised left hand, denied such injustices.

"I didn't foul any," he said. "It was a pretty close fight."

"Who'll I fight? Anybody," he said. "I'll fight Walcott again, anytime."

"Walcott bothered me only when he wouldn't fight," he went on, "but I knew I had him when the bell rang at the end of the 15th round."

Jake Mintz, manager of the new champion, sputtered his glee.

"It's a helluva feeling to have a champion," he said. "I've been calling him champion all year, but he just kept saying I was dreaming. He'll be a great champion. He's a great fighter and he's going to be a fighting champion."

Charles said Walcott, who fooled retired Champion Joe Louis for 15 rounds once, "never fooled me."

Walcott, defeated now for the third time in a heavyweight title bout, was disgusted.

"I thought I won all the way," he said. "I thought I won nine rounds. He's a fast sneaky puncher who keeps on hitting when you break from a clinch. Every time I broke, he kept punching.

"Charles is a good light heavy," the defeated opponent said, "but I don't think he'll be a good heavy. I'd like best to get back into the ring with Charles."

Charles "kept hitting me low," Walcott charged, "and he wasn't warned as often as he should have been."

"Charles doesn't take a punch," he said. "He rolls with it. My timing was way off. I only did gym work until I began training for this bout and the long layoff after the last Louis fight hurt."

"I think Louis should force Charles to fight me again. I think I'm entitled to another chance."

Stan Musial Widens Lead

CHICAGO — (UP) — Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals today widened his lead among National league outfielders in balloting for all star teams, while Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder remained at the head of the American leaguers.

Williams, top vote-getter last year, led all balloting with 599,203 votes. Musical had 529,484. He led Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirates, by 13,292.

Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn second baseman, held second place in total balloting with 548,316 votes.

6 Boys Enter First Junior Golf Tourney

Although only three days remain before the deadline, only six boys have entered the Richland county junior golf tournament which is to be held at Coolridge golf course next Wednesday.

Bill Mercer, secretary of the county golf association, said today that a number of fine merchandise prizes have been lined up for the tournament and unless more boys get their entry blanks in, they are going to miss out on a chance for the prizes. Entry deadline is Sunday midnight.

FIRST ENTRIES

Robert Wihinger, 18 year old Westbrook caddy and Ed Percy, Senior high school golf letterman who plays regularly at Coolridge, were the first two entrants.

Others who have since put their name on the list are: Larry Inscore, two - time Westbrook caddy champion; Bud Baith, high school letterman and Westbrook caddy; Tommy Bates, Westbrook and Corky Perrine, the Tyger baseball player who does his golfing at Coolridge.

Mercer said that boys need not have an official entry blank but need only to send their name, address and age along with a $1 green fee to him at 956 Maumee avenue. No entry fee need be sent by boys who have Coolridge memberships.

Liederkranz Takes Lead With 4th Win

Liederkranz took over undisputed possession of first place in the fast American softball league yesterday by edging Veterans of Foreign Wars, 4-3, at Liberty park. It was the first defeat for VFW and the fourth straight win for Liederkranz.

Kenny Windsor of Liederkranz and Ronnie Hunt of VFW locked horns in a fine pitching duel but Hunt's mates were unable to give him proper support. Only one of the winner's runs were earned as Hunt held them to four hits.

VFW scored all its runs on two hits, a walk and a long fly in the first inning, and Liederkranz tied it up with two in the third and one in the fourth. In the top of the sixth Kenny Windsor led off with a single and Bill McCarrick struck out. Catcher Joe Lesch missed the third strike and, forgetting the automatic out rule, threw to second in an attempt to force Windsor. The ball sailed into center field and Windsor romped home. McCarrick, who was by that time at third base, was ruled out on the strike out.

TIES FOR SECOND

Sons of Herman slipped into a tie for second place in the league by whipping Isaly's Dairy, 9-6, at Prospect. Home runs by Griffith and Al Bechtler featured the Isaly attack.

In the other game, Farm Tools bowed to Todd's Jewelers, 7-2. The Toolmen escaped a shutout on Bob Boyd's sixth inning home run with one man on.

Midget Loop Night Games Set On Monday

Although three complete games have already been played in the Midget section of the Hot Stove league junior baseball program, the official opening has been rescheduled for next Monday at 8 p. m. at the Gorman-Rupp field.

The official openers under the lights Tuesday were rained out after Colony alleys had taken a 3-to-0 lead over National Electric. These two teams will meet in the first game Monday while Tracy and Avery will meet Met's Auto Supply in the second contest at approximately 9:30 p. m.

Only the pitching and catching of Mayor Roy Vaughn and Service-Safety Director Earl Garrison will be missing at Monday's session. The Mansfield officials had formed the opening battery Tuesday.

Second set of games in the Midget (12 years and under) circuit are scheduled tomorrow morning.

The Junior and National leagues will swing into action Monday afternoon and evening.

★

Four teams last night entered the Hot Stove league's American baseball circuit. The league for 17-and-18 year old boys will begin play July 5.

Entered are: Sons of Herman, defending champion; Ontario, Woodland and Jim Dickson's team from south Mansfield. Any other teams wishing to enter may contact Stan Kamen, recreation director, at 3391-1 before July 1.

Shibinski Plays Today In Kentucky

BOWLING GREEN, Ky.—Mansfielder Norb Shibinski and his 11 Ohio all-star basketball teammates will collide with a Kentucky all-star high school team here tonight in a hospital benefit game.

Shibinski, the highest scoring center in Mansfield cage history, was selected for the team by Paul Walker, veteran Middletown coach, who is directing the Ohio aggregation. The Senior high basketball anad football star collected 296 points as the Tygers won 19 of 27 games during the 1948-49 season.

The Ohio stars opened practice last Sunday and worked out against Coach Adolph Rupp's summer squad at the University of Kentucky Tuesday afternoon. Today the Ohio contingent was scheduled to visit the Mammoth Cave during a sight-seeing tour.

It will be the second game for the Kentucky "Stars." Last week an Indiana high school group defeated Kentucky, 66 to 61, before 12,000 fans in Indianapolis. This is an annual game. Ed Diddle, Western Kentucky State coach, handles the Kentucky team.

Diddle kept the top five lads who participated against Indiana and has added five additional stars.

Other members of the Ohio team are: Bob Grimes, Merrill Hatfield and Cliff Whisman of Middletown; Bill Wilks and Bernie Geisinger of Hamilton; Richard Walls, Ft. Recovery; Jack Jones, Dayton Stivers; Tom Plink, Lancaster; Mark Scarr, Barberton; Jerry McCloskey, Toledo Central Catholic, and Jack Kuck, New Knoxville.

The Kentucky and Ohio squads will play for the second time in Middletown Saturday night at 8:30. Approximately 1,000 fans are expected.
